MAGAZINE

1992

The school wishes to thank the advertisers without whose help it would not have been possible to produce this magazine, and hopes that readers of the magazine will support the advertisers.

Editor's Note

I would like to thank all those people who worked so hard to help in the production of this magazine. Mrs Gibbons and Miss Stockton spent many hours selling advertising. We are also grateful to the Pupil Council and every student who took part in Workday.

Many thanks to our typists – Leanne Rouse, Caroline French, Gina McClymont, Eve Sawtelle, Nonie Uangakore plus various members of my 6th Form English Class. Finally a special thank you to the Magazine Committee for their enthusiasm and hard work:

Glenda Brighthouse, Kelly Abbott, James Kapoor, Campbell Emerson, Selina Boyd, Rhonda Lowe, Brendan Dickinson, Geoffrey Khoo, Mark Pakuru, Lara Revell, Caleb Armstrong, Rachelle Stables, Stephanie Hodges, Bruce Henderson, Yvette Hejl, Karyn Robson, Susan Kirkby, Soren Jensen, Dianne Collins, Bridget Mateer, Kylla Rutherford, Tim Elsmore.

Staff Notes

This year we have welcomed Miss Stockton who has come from Christchurch to take over the classes vacated by Miss McKenzie who is on Maternity Leave. Miss Stockton has fitted in well. Miss McKenzie has had a son Ethan and she is finding her new life very stimulating.

A number of our staff members have for various purposes climbed aboard silver birds and gone to faraway destinations. Mrs Scherer took some time off this year and visited Poland where she was involved with her husband in the tenth International Precision Flying Championships in Deblin.

Mrs Sommerville did very well to win selection to train in New York to be a consultant to the American Field Scholarship movement. She had hardly touched base back in New Zealand before she was flying off to Czechoslovakia to develop AFS in that country.

Mr Cantwell has spent time this year in the United Kingdom on a Rotary Study grant.

Our roll increased last year beyond the prediction and this was good news for the staff as a whole and particularly good news for three of the four teachers who recovered their jobs, having lost them late last year.

We are to lose a number of staff members at the end of this year. Mr Dale has won promotion to Assistant Principal at Taumarunui High School and while he will miss this school he is enjoying the prospect of the challenges of his new position.

Mrs Wiles is the new Head of Social Studies and we are sure that she will do well in this position. Mr McStravick is returning to Ireland after three years in New Zealand. Mr and Mrs Crawford are moving to Okaihau where Mr Crawford is to be Head of Computer Studies at Okaihau College. Both are looking forward to life in the Winterless North and we wish them well for the future. Mrs Keyzers has resigned after an association with our school that goes back right to the school's beginnings. She has made a significant contribution to Forest View High School. We wish her well and are sure that Mrs Keyzers will find plenty to keep her busy in her retirement. All in all this has been a very eventful year with major repaints within our buildings, a visit from the Education Review Office and an unsettled Award Round coming on top of the normal pressures associated with school life. As a staff we are working hard, feeling positive but a holiday would be good!

From the Principal

After just one year as Principal of Forest View High School, it is appropriate and timely to reflect upon what has been achieved by Staff, Students and Parents in that time.

The list, I believe, is a very impressive one. As a Staff we have carried out a review of our strengths and weaknesses. Staff are taking part in many professional development activities, developing School Policies and planning for future needs. We are encouraging Students to stay on at School to further their skills and qualifications. Students progress automatically through the Senior School – we even have an 8th Form!

For 1993 we are extending the range of Senior Subjects available to cater for a wider range of Student needs.

A peer support programme has been introduced using Senior Students to work with incoming Third Formers to ensure their entry into the School is a smooth one.

Our major thrust has been Student Achievement. We believe strongly in a good working environment and our new assertive discipline programme not only encourages sound discipline but emphasises encouraging Student achievement through reward. Student achievement and effort is recognised through assemblies. This year we have introduced Form Level assemblies with Deans and Students being more actively involved in assembly organisation.

Able Students in the Junior School are able to take part in an extension programme which challenges them to extend their abilities, while a very strong special needs emphasis assists Students with learning difficulties.

The Sports Award Assembly and Luncheon was introduced last year and will continue to recognise the excellence that many of our Students achieve in Sport.

The Student Council has been a very active one this year and has made a major contribution to School life. Fundraising ventures have been carried out, murals painted and a radio station established.

Our School environment is undergoing improvements with increased planting of shrubs, the refurbishment of A Block and work commencing next on the painting of B and C blocks. We have increased significantly, the number of Computers in the School and in 1993 intend to increase Staff and Student awareness and use of Computer Technology.

Parents I think have been kept more informed about School events. Parents were involved in the review of School uniform, a Parent Support Group has been active this year, a Parent Handbook sent home, newsletters are regular, parents have been made welcome in the School. An Open Day on Saturday morning with full Staff involvement has given parents an opportunity to come and see the School.

The Education Review Office visit earlier this year substantially supported the view that this is a good school. However, it is dangerous to be complacent. We must all seek to do better.

Next year our focus is to be developing programmes which challenge Students to set goals and achieve. The Staff must challenge themselves by setting professional goals which will benefit their Students.

I would like to place on record my thanks to all our Staff, teaching and non teaching, for their hard work and support and to the Students of 1992, my best wishes for the new year in 1993!

The Board of Trustees of F.V.H.S. is pleased to put on record its appreciation for the wide range of extra curricular activities and sporting codes participated in at F.V.H.S. The active involvement of staff and parents in these activities is vital to the progress and atmosphere of the school. We thank Mr Peter Lee and his staff for the professional and cordial manner in which they run the school. We thank the Pupil Council and all pupils for their active involvement in school life. We are very pleased with the success of so many pupils in academic, sporting, cultural and other fields. Finally, we have a keen group of parents involved on the Board of Trustees who were elected this year for a three year term and are pleased to be part of the team involved in, what we see as, a successful school.

On behalf of the Board
Ian Elliott

Student Council 1992

Well, it's been a great year, but all good things must come to an end.

This year's council was chaired by: Michael "we can buy it" McAlonan and Natalie "are you 3rd formers alright" Boss.

Other notable people present and non-present at council meetings were Deputy Head Boy Nathaniel "let's sell T.V. rights" Wiles and Deputy Head Girl (Secretary) Kiri "do I put that in the minutes" Wright and finally Treasurer Michael "it's my radio station" Warwick. The most dynamic members of the council included:

Jonus "oh sorry man, I was just with Nina" and Tereena and Janella "I wondered what the silver badge was for".

But seriously, this year's council did set and achieve realistic goals.

First up on the agenda was the financing of the climbing wall. A sports' library was established with balls for recreational use at lunchtimes. These proved to be so popular that people decided they wanted to keep them! Then came the new speakers for the auditorium; somebody also decided they liked the look of these as they too were also stolen.

However, this did not deter the enthusiasm shown by the council as they continued on their crusade to achieve total bankruptcy.

New radio gear was bought and the all popular radio station was established, with cashflow diminishing rapidly and the ever present propositions flowing in. A social was held to finance a new video for the Audio Visual Room.

Many sporting teams also sought assistance financially - Hockey, Shooting, Cricket, Rugby, Soccer, Badminton were among the teams that benefited.

Beautifying the school was also a high priority. A successful mural competition was run with two winners:

An Alien by Mike and A Bushman by Andrew.

These were professionally painted and added an interesting dimension to the school environment.

Workday was successful and money raised is being distributed to the magazine, next year's council and a final splurge by us.

Well that's it!

But

Thanks also to supporting teachers Mrs Sommerville and Mrs Hein, who provided positive input into most council discussions.

Michael and Natalie would like to thank those people who put an effort into the successful running of the 1992 council and wish next year's council all the best.

Maori Culture Group

This year started differently to any other year since the establishment of the Forest View High School Maori Cultural Group. It started differently because some of the members were geared up for the American tour to be held during Christmas at the end of this year, but unfortunately, the trip was cancelled because of the Kinleith Mill strike and a trip of Northland was organised instead.

Practices were as usual, held every Monday night from 7 – 9 p.m. at Central Primary School.

The group started at the beginning of the year with the expected large number of members but as the year progressed, the men were separated from the boys bringing the group to its current size of 43 strong. Of course, we must not forget the A.F.S. students' involvement in the group. The A.F.S. students this year produced a lot of laughs for us all and each one of them had their own personality. There was from Brazil, Manuel "Ka mate, ka mate" Saiz, and from Japan, Yurie "Poi taku poi e" Okita and then there was Soren

"does menemene mean smile" Jensen. All of these A.F.S. students who took on the new activity must be commended for their attitude to learning and endurance to the end.

The group performed at a couple of places this year, the Scottish Community Function and also the Tahere Wedding.

Then there are our tutors, Mr and Mrs Whatarau. A special thanks goes to them; their patience, their time and effort this year and in previous years needs to be recognised. So on behalf of the group, "KIA ORA KORUA, E KUI, E KOROUA".

1992 will undoubtedly be remembered as the year of goodbyes. During the year we farewelled Browning Tau, a former student and a self appointed part-time tutor to the Maori group during the six week recess. "KIA ORA BROWN".

"KA PU TE RUHA, KA HAO TE RANGATAHI". We will also farewell all of the senior students who are leaving at the end of the year to the workforce or to tertiary education or even overseas.

Then of course, last but not least, we farewell a very special person in the Maori Cultural Group, whose support has been tremendous. That person is (Rev.) Mr Dale. His singing voice will not be missed, but his words of wisdom and his eternal cheerful face will be. "NO REIRA E PA, HE MIHI WHANUI KI A KOE, KIA KAHA KOE MO TOU MAHI PAI KI ROTO TE WHARE KARAKIA I NGÄ WÄÄ I MUA O TENEI".

Oops! finally, I almost forget them, the parents' support group. The Piwi Tipihaere Support Group nominated privileged people (like me) to help wash dishes on Saturday evenings at birthdays and weddings. But, they also raised money to send everybody up north during Christmas and with the whakatauaka and by the looks of some of these pukus, one would wonder if half of the baskets made it to these functions.

"NAU TE ROUROU
NAKU TE ROUROU
KA ORA TE MANUHIRI"

"MA TE ATUA KOE E MANAKI, E TIAKI"
"KIA KAHA KOUTOU KATOÄ"

After a tough night we thought we might drop on in at our hangout joint Ronnies (Mr Big "M") and have one for the road. While The Boyz tried their luck outside by trying to busk for some pingas, unfortunately their presence was enough to scare stray dogs so they called it a night. But unfortunately it didn't stop them from singing inside the bus!

Wednesday was careers day, here reluctant Universities, Polytechnics and other Tertiary Institutions opened their friendly doors to groups of students who immediately started throwing ten thousand questions at them. A favourable one was "Do I really have to work at school?" (Maybe they should have asked whether any employer would want to employ them??)

After a close call on the shuttle buses for those who were fortunate enough to go over to the Shore it was now time for our next adventure. Yes we were busy, busy and for girls this adventure was certainly going to keep them busy ah ha yes shopping!!

While Mummies and Daddies back home worried about their credit card ratings, their little sweethearts were spending it up with of course Mummies' and Daddies' money. The boys opted for the cheaper way out and decided to go up high-rise buildings. (Shame none bothered to throw themselves off it).

Our luxury liners received a "Fax" that another elite night spot was awaiting our presence, so arrayed in our brand new outfits, we cruised on over to the Careers Expo Night. We stole the show of course - not to mention the stickers, pamphlets and the coke that were available. Hectic Thursday brought more excitement than Wednesday. While geographers sadly had to do their assignment, the rest were given some fun choices; TVNZ, Ritzy Hotels, Drama School and Newspapers were some of the many interesting visits.

The Hotels like the Centra brought most of us to our knees not to mention saliva to the side of our mouths, the exotic atmosphere was too much for us Tokoroains. After being practically thrown out of the hotel because we bluntly refused to leave the glamour life; it was now time to head off to the main event...??

We were told to get into groups and follow the instructions on the sheet given. We were then told to politely get lost (which wouldn't be further from the truth as some were already lost by the orders given by certain teachers). These instructions lead to a Ferry ride to Devonport, and then various Bus rides. Kelly Tarlton's gave us time to plot foul schemes - hoping that one of those big sharks would be hungry enough to come and attack your enemy. Our last joy ride was a trip by train to Wiri giving us a chance to see the other side of Auckland (Otara).

Our last limelight resort was "Paradise", no, not Hawaii, but the ice skating rink in Glen Innes. Students were reluctant to go on the ice as fear that falling flat on their faces would leave them highly embarrassed. These fears were exposed as the majority ended up on the floor. Anyway, either that or a new move was invented! Mr "Pro" Crawford could be seen strutting his stuff by going round the rink at about 45 km and we thought the buses were bad. Old Nigel had an uncanny knack of linking up with people and then proceeding to take them on a "Death-defying" trip around the rink leaving most praying for their lives.

Bruised and battered students were seen crawling into Ronnie's. Here they had a chance to tell their sob ice skating stories over a Big Mac.

We faced Friday reluctantly. After cleaning up our nest we waved our home and playgrounds goodbye. Sighs of relief were heard from camp staff and nearby neighbours.

Auckland International Airport was our last stop. Here we were given a questionnaire to complete, the accurate completed questionnaire would win a free ball ticket (Groovy!!). After having no success in persuading people to take us along to the United States with them, it was now time to head back to the Jungles of Tokoroa, where our nervous parents were waiting for their brats.

Thanks must go to The Boyz for providing the music on the way home and for Michael "Drool" Hendra for his bad display of sleeping habits!!

"Summer Madness," could come close to describing the scene which somehow became the 1992 Forest View High School, Variety Show.

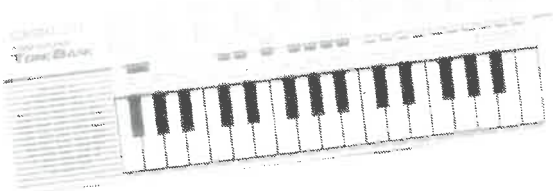

We had everything, a dance to the 'Grease Remix', love the nighties gals! Seventh formers that had their heads stuck in their pillow cases, or were they meant to be like that? Who was the 'Spunky Chick' in the Teddybear suit? Jennifer Willy?

The band rocked the auditorium on its very foundations, good one guys! The choir calmed many a screaming infant with sweet delicate voices. Two sixth formers slunk on stage to sing 'A Little Fall of Rain', from the much hammered 'Les Miserables.' The teachers displayed an aversion to keeping their own clothes on, and seemed to prefer to wear the clothes of the opposite sex, and the tu-tu! There were some untamed pads of skin and pure fat. (And hairy legs!) Second child-hood!

And last but not least, a big thank you to Mr Dale, someone who displayed endless patience and who seemed unperturbed by the, um, occasional problem. Senior Prom – 1992

OFF WITH THE OLD, AND ON WITH THE NEW –
The Prom was upon us!

The theme for the "1992" Prom was Heaven and Hell which brought out the devils among the bad and the angels among the good. After everyone had arrived at the Tokoroa Rugby Clubrooms in their hot rods, bombs and push bikes it was about to begin.

Once seating was found and re-arranged it was then time to sit down and munch out; like the race was on. It was like 130 Ethiopians with free McDonald's vouchers. The food served, ranged from seafood to chicken pieces with salads accompanied by pavlova and fruit salad.

When tea was finished the stairway was jammed up by the bold, the beautiful and the vain (Trevor). Not to mention the Ugly (Teachers), trying to strike a pose for the photos.

As the one man band began to play, slowly the dance floor was filled. The music ranged from "house" to "rock". Mrs Stokes stole the show with her aerobics steps or was that dancing???

The usual beau and belle of the ball awards were replaced by spot prizes which were given out to those who had the "lucky ticket".

This was followed by close intimate dancing. Time went by pretty quickly and the clock struck twelve, sending the Cinderellas and Prince Charmings off to the PARTIES!!

Thanks to all who attended and had a good time. Thanks especially to the staff and Prom committee who made the night possible.

Forest View Polynesian Group 1992

This year's Polynesian group was put together for the variety show by Mrs Price, who put our A into G and got us going, thanks heaps Mum. It was a group that was short lived, but will more than probably, get together next year.

THE GIRLS: Behind their awesome fearless leader Uputoua, our beautiful girls gave an excellent performance that left the audience screaming for the boys.

THE BOYS: The muscle bound brothers, led by Vaota 'Haney' spent whatever lunch-time we had to practise and the performance turned out to be the 20th Century Seva. It took a bit of motivation, but we put together a hardcase Polynesian Group that had fun and enjoyment. Thanks to all members and all who contributed for 1992's Forest View's "Polynesian Group."

Speech Finals

The general feeling among the students when the word 'speeches' is heard is one of turmoil, apprehension, and even fear and hate. Yet again this year's speech finals displayed some mature, funny and creative speeches which were developed by the students at all levels. Again this year we were privileged to have our experienced judges, Mr John Blackie and Mrs Elder, whose honest comments and advice were not only beneficial to those being judged but for those sitting in the audience as well. The finals were held near the end of term two and every student in the school was able to be part of their level's audience and listen to their peers deliver their speech.

The judges commented that this year's speeches were of 'a very high standard.' This year's prize winners are:

3rd Form Katrina Ford

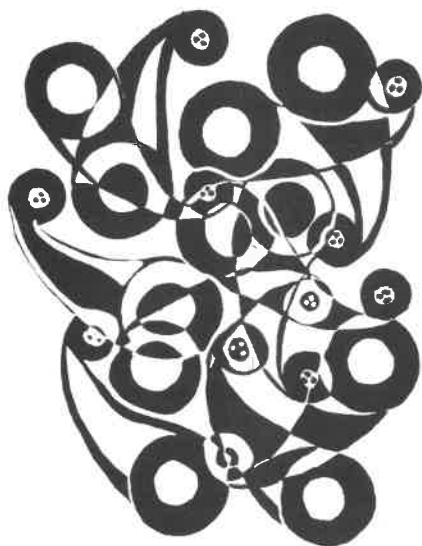

4th Form Tapu Ali'fa'alogo

5th Form Careena Thompson

6th Form Wayne Timmo

Congratulations to all students who were involved in the speech finals, who put their effort and time into creating their speech, and most of all, congratulations for having the courage to stand up and speak out among their peers.

Workday '92

This year workday was organised by several keen and enthusiastic members of the student council headed by Jonathan Keightley.

Despite the economic climate in the Tokoroa community at the time, workday was a great success. On our limited budget we managed to create a magnificent advertising campaign. This caught our local community's attention and resulted in numerous phone calls to the school asking for keen and willing students for various jobs ranging from weeding gardens to mowing lawns, to weeding gardens, to taking trailer loads to the dump and of course the inevitable job of weeding gardens!

There was a keen band of students who offered their driving skills and were much appreciated by all.

Many, many thanks to Mrs Priscott, with whom we liaised throughout the preparations and on the actual day.

Her vast knowledge from previous workdays proved to be a benefit to our committee as the day was such a success.

Final thanks to all willing staff members, who were co-operative during preparations and money collection. Their time and effort in answering phones and dispatching students were much appreciated. Overall, congratulations to the student body for a most successful and rewarding workday! GOOD ONE!

Soren the Foreign Looks Back on His Year at Forest View High School

Hejsa, everybody!

The shortest year of my life soon comes to an end.

Saying it has been short doesn't mean that I'm short of things to remember. It means that a lot has been going on since I entered Kiwi-land, pale as a penguin.

I came from dark winter in Denmark into the New Zealand summer, where the sharp sun met me, brighter than the colour of my skin.

Playing soccer the New Zealand way (without "diving"), O.P.C. at Turangi, skiing at Whakapapa and trips around the country like the 6th form trip to Auckland are all memorable experiences. Turning out as a "Maori Warrior" wasn't something I had expected, but I'll enjoy teaching the Vikings of Denmark how to perform a haka. The Maori group has given me another dimension of life in Tokoroa and together with the many people I've met it has given me a thorough impression of the country.

Going to school here has been a long learning experience, adapting to the new system.

Suddenly I was back at school, after having finished school back home. Although it hasn't all been fun, it's been good to be part of Forest View High School, being accepted as one of "you guys". The excellent physical education and the great team spirit in representing the school inspired me to do outdoor activities while I've been here.

Another part of New Zealand culture, Rugby, I experienced by going to the National final in Hamilton, where Waikato wasted Otago. The essentials of life in New Zealand can be described by three B's: BALLGAMES, BEER and BARBECUE. Am I right?

I'd like to thank the whole school, the staff and the students for all support and helpfulness. I've had a special year, which I'll remember when I'm sitting in my wheelchair in sixty years, telling stories to my grandchildren. I'll tell them about the tough citizens of Tokoroa who go pig hunting, live in the middle of a huge forest and like making jokes about snobbish Aucklanders. I'll tell them about the frightening Maori group of Forest View High School, where the boys stick their tongue out and make funny noises, and about hundreds of students singing in a big room together.

Thank you all for an experience of a lifetime, you all made my year here worthwhile.
Goodbye from

Soren Birk Jensen (AFS student at FVHS from Denmark)

Tusind tak for alt I har givet mig,
I vil ikke blive glemt.

Mitophold her har veret en stor oplevelse.

A.F.S. Students – 1992

Kia Ora! Ka Korero Ahau

The year in Forest View is nearly finished and many things happened in my year at this school. The school here is so different from my school in Brazil.

In my school at home I am really free, over there I do what I want, so if I don't want to go to school I just stay at home or I go to the pool with my friends or to the pub, but in Forest View it was different. Here the school really controls my life and I really don't have time to go out of school and have fun doing crazy things. But all new experiences are welcome, so I really enjoyed my year here.

When I came on the first day I found the school uniform so funny, long blue socks with black shoes, but the next day I was wearing the same uniform (it's not too bad but sometimes it's really cold!).

The trips with Forest View were really good fun: Auckland trip, Geography trip, OPC, Ski trip, etc.

The rock climbing was cool fun, the big rocks at Whakamaru were good fun to climb, the indoor wall at the Gym was good fun too.

My art class was my favourite option, I had such a good time there, drawing crazy things, talking with my friends, etc.

When the sunny time came in the spring my desire was to stay at home after lunch time and go for a swim at Soren's place.

One of the really important points of my school life here was the Maori group. Yes, I enjoyed it so much, doing the Haka (my favourite dance), I really feel good with my Maori group and everyone there, teaching me many different things. I hope that I can show, to my friends in Brazil, the Maori culture.

Only one more thing. Thanks to my school friends who taught me so many things. I will never forget you. See you one day, somewhere. FOI BOM ENCONTRAR EM NOVA ZELANDIA AMIGOS THAU!

Manuel Saiz

When I first came to F.V.H.S., it was a kind of shock that the school buildings seemed very small and flat for me. When I saw the school fields, I felt uncomfortable because I had never seen grass sportsgrounds like this in Japanese schools before. I'd only seen grass fields like this for picnics. I thought "maybe they don't play sports very often."

The time goes by so quickly and now I must prepare to go back to Japan. "Oh no! I haven't done anything I wanted to do!!" To stay overseas for a year may sound a long time but you wouldn't believe how fast it goes. There's nothing like being an exchange student. "What a big year!!"

I have joined a lot of school activities and events. I took part in "The Diary of Adrian Mole" and I was also in the "Variety Show". They were fun to be part of.

We don't have these kinds of productions at my school in Japan.

Maori Culture Group was great!

I got a real feeling for Maori people by being a part of the group. I also joined the choir and had singing lessons. I really enjoyed the 6th form trip and OPC, too. They were good opportunities to make friends. You know, only one thing I hated were the hills on my way to school. It seemed so far and everyone walked too fast.

I'm so glad I was able to spend a year of my school life here. It was great to have other exchange students with me too. They were choice.

When I go back to Japan, I'll have to get used to the Japanese way of life again and most of my time will be study, study, study so I can sit my entrance exams for university at the beginning of 1994.

I really want to say thank you to everybody who helped and supported me here. I know I'm going to miss you all.

I'll never forget you.

Love, Yurie Okita.

Netball

The Forest View A Netball Team

The Forest View A netball team started the season as a fairly young, inexperienced yet fresh side. After a successful opening day competition we made the Premier division. This was an opportunity to gain valuable court experience against the best netball teams in Tokoroa. Also making the Premier division were our rivals, Tokoroa High School.

We met Tokoroa High School twice in the competition and both games were as exciting and unpredictable as each other. Our first encounter was at the beginning of the season. This was an exciting game with both teams even in skill and talent. However the Forest View side was not as experienced as the Tokoroa High School side with only three players returning from 1991. This saw Forest View narrowly defeated by one goal at the final whistle.

The second time Forest View and Tokoroa High met, we were determined to prove our potential. We went into the game relaxed and confident and this proved to unsettle Tokoroa High School's flow and concentration. We steadily attacked the Tokoroa High School side, with the circle defence Kiri and Paula combining their newly attained defensive skills and quick reactions to gain valuable tips and excellent intercepts. Risa also made some skilful intercepts and with her strong passes delivered the ball to Wynel and Janella. Wynel proved to be a vital link between attack and defence, her persistence always unsettling the opposition and her speed and skill enabled her to use the opposition's mistakes to gain ball and move it down the court. These opportunities were grasped by Janella whose skilful vision and brilliant passes fed the ball into our shooters, who turned the team's hard work into points. On attack Forest View was able to move the ball skilfully into Anneka and Katie who developed an acute understanding of each other's quick ball skills and positional plays, always managing to elude and infuriate the Tokoroa High defence with their quick passes under the goal, and with their accurate goal shooting. The half-time score 11-14 was proof enough that our side was working well.

We went into the second half confident and continued to perform; however our luck turned when ten minutes into the second half Katie was forced off the court by a serious ankle injury. Subsequently Amy Tealauva moved onto the court to replace Katie and played extremely well, considering the pressure she was under. Tokoroa High used this unsettling incident to their advantage and managed to narrow our lead and beat us by only one goal again! A highlight of the season was our triumph over Taradale. This was another exciting game; Taradale had defeated Forest View for the past 6 (or 7) years. After our encouraging game against Tokoroa High School we played with determination and commitment and defeated the Taradale side 28-23.

Overall, Forest View A netball 1992 had a good, enjoyable season, developing and improving throughout the year, to defeat Orion in the final competition, and coming runners-up in the closing day competition.

During the season, we also had members play for representative teams: Midlands Under 21's, Kiri; Midlands Under 18's, Katie; Tokoroa Under 18's, Anneka and Paula and Tokoroa Under 16's, Wynel.

Appreciation goes out to Mrs Williamson and Mrs Sommerville for the time and effort they put into our enjoyable season.

Netball B'

Tasha Bonnar - (Poto) captained the champion side after Paula Morrissey ditched us for a higher team. Poto, a talented midcourt player who ran circles around the opposition, introduced herself many times to the court floor. Her giggles kept smiles on the team's faces. Jaeleen Cooper - (Jayween) had an excellent eye for shooting goals and helped produce points for the team, danced and sang around the court, did well in the defensive area. Next year try and spend more time concentrating on the game rather than the cuddly bro's on the side.

Kylee Solomon - Showed the senior how it was done, a definite asset to the game and showed great enthusiasm and skill. Try and keep your eyes on the ball not the side-line.

Amy Teaukura - The quiet member of the team, another promising third former who expressed plenty of ability and flair and managed to hold off any opponents put up against her. Good luck for your future years Aim.

Alana Te Whaiti - (Panana) showed promise, skill and expertise in every game (except when she was wearing a cast). An extremely talented third former bound to go far in her netballing career. Next year try and stay on your feet, not your knees.

Amber Edwards – an aggressive player who had her eyes on the ball (except when her hair was in the way) throughout each game.

(Ambow!) kept the mid-court in an even flow and kept the circle working. A very fit and energetic player, unfortunately she was a bit accident prone.

Suzanna Kotuhi – Suzie, another quiet member in the team; slowed down the opposition with her amazing ability in the defence area. Used her height to constantly defeat the opposition.

Paula Morrissey – Our version of Krusty the Clown, Morrissey always clowned around the court and amazingly picked up many intercepts. Showed great skill and aggressiveness to scare away the opposition.

Christine Wipe – Paula was replaced by Chris, an excellent defence and attacking player who added to our own defences. Kept the opposition on their feet with her skills.

This year the 'B' Netball team consisted of a solid bunch of keen, mean, defence and attacking machines. We had plenty of laughs and plenty of wins. We co-operated extremely well together, joked a lot, and had a lot of fun. After winning Opening day at the beginning of the season and winning a few prizes we went on our merry way to be totally undefeated. We then travelled to Matamata and showed them how to play the real way. A Rotorua tournament also helped us improve our standards, unfortunately for some of our heads, the after-production party had left us a bit drowsy. Taradale also entered the demolition derby and we pounded them into the ground. We soon advanced to the A reserve grade but unfortunately for us, our winning streak started to change; no worries, not everyone can win all the time.

We would like to thank Mrs Heather Williamson and Mrs Raelene Sommerville for giving up their valuable time to coach and train us, also to the parents, supporters, Royal Netball team, fans, prospects, referees and the general audience.

Aqua Netball Team

This team was Tumeke this year, winning our division in the overall competition and coming close to winning our section on closing day. We didn't do too badly considering we only had one practice throughout the whole netball season, and when we did have that practice we lost the following game. For most of our team this was our second year playing together and I have pity on the new girls who got stuck with us.

The girls were:

Cheryl Clay – (vice captain) GS, WA.

Nicola Rhyan – GD, WA.

Melinda Veldhuizen – GD, GK.

Frances Te Naiti – GA, GS, WA.

Theresa Elliot – WD, WA.

Terese Bonnar – WA, GA, GS, C.

Rachel Gielen – C, WA.

Me – GD, GK, WA.

Also: Celva Tongia, Sulita Povaru-Bourne, Donna Iorangi and Shannon Millard who also played games for us.

We would like to thank our many supporters and parents who (in all weather) came to watch and Yell.

We would especially like to thank Sally Winikerei (Aunty Sal), our choice coach, for looking after us out on the court.

The first half of the year was captained by Desiree Morunga, a very talented senior in the team who left us half way through the season. Mate Moyle, a gifted Netballer, took over the second half of the year as captain. Carly Ngarotata, a fast and essential player, who showed her expertise in the goal circle and the centre third, a great asset, Leigh Cooper, another talented player, with an eye for shooting and very seldom missed. Shanna Siaki, an excellent defence player, who did an excellent job of slowing down the opposition, and did well at keeping the team spirits up. Jennifer Price, another gifted player, who did

Royal Netball Team

This year's team consisted of 2 fifth formers, 4 fourth formers and 2 third formers. We all thoroughly enjoyed the season as well as getting to know each other really well.

The team was:

Kelly Haika – she played GA. Her shooting skills were excellent as well as her quick moving steps around her partner's.

Kiri Smith – she played C and sometimes WA. Kiri was another player who never tired out. Her skills were exceptionally good.

Royna Kaio – she played mainly WA and sometimes C. Her good ball skills showed as well as her speed.

Melissa Russell – she played anything, but mainly WD. Melissa has excellent skills as a defence.

Ngaroma Reti – she played mainly WD or GD/GK. She showed good skills with the ball as well as good defence.

Charlotte Bain – Charlotte had a really good season this year. She played GD/GK. She used her height to a good advantage.

Maria Teinakore – (Vice Captain) managed to get her way with everyone and was really aggressive, which was helpful for all games.

Had a good season at GD/GK. Not only did Maria play netball with her hands and feet but she found herself stretching her vocal chords. Isobel Tenaiti – (Captain) well, without sounding too modest, the team was lost without me, Ha Ha! I found myself playing GS and on the odd occasion GA. I was proud to captain of a hyper-active team. It's been a great year girls.

All the best for the future. I'd like to thank our coaches Mrs Sommerville and Mrs Williamson for the "really choice" Tuesday night practices, and for being by our games whenever possible, and also the parent supporters.

Kahurangi

With the unfortunate departure of the Te Rore sisters, our team seemed at a loss. Fortunately Carly Ngarotata, with quick movements on the court and Leigh Cooper, a keen and quick player came to our rescue. With six players we formed the "Kahurangi team."

The Matangi sisters GA-GD: with long arms and tall structures, reached with ease for intercepts. The Clair sisters GK-C: Always determined to see who was better than the other but seemed equally skilled.

Christine Phillips WA-C: A strong player, never looking whom she ran into to.

Aroha Kingi GS: Short and a enthusiastic player who shot to perfection – never missed.

Our hard work and training (watching the first XV) paid off as victory was ours to claim on closing day.

Also a big thanks to Katarina for playing for us on closing day.

On behalf of the Kahurangi team we would like to send our congratulations to our coach 'Browning Tau' on the birth of a baby girl, Wendy Marion.

At the end of the season, we combined Turquoise/Blue together to form one "Make do" team. With a lot of losses and hardly any wins, we finished the season on a good natured note. We all had a good time.

Amanda "Busybody" Jeffries – always looked busy but not doing anything important (Captain).

Sheree "Wafflecone" Reynolds – Refused to go on the court until she had had an icecream.

Shannon "Super Shooter" Millard – Her shooting abilities put the rest of us to shame. A good season all round for her though.

Melissa "Master of defence" Masters – Melissa wasn't with us long but proved to be a very talented player.

Nuala "Giggly" Gadsden – An especially good all-rounder. Played mostly centre and never let our losses get her down.

Tara "Shorty" Kemp – Tara played a good year's worth of Netball. Her height did not affect her ability to get things done.

Haylie "Early bird" Tomalin – tells us to get there early but is always late herself, good going Haylie.

Violet Team

To all the girls in the Violet team:

Well done for trying hard and for all the effort you put in for our games on Saturday. I know a lot of our games were tough, but at least we're a team of good sports.

Our team Violet had 9 players, Uputaua (Captain), Laloifi (Vice Captain), Lisa Edgar, Katrina Hudson, Alice Fearn, Christina Marsden, Yurie Okita, Jessica Haugh and Nicole Andrews, the worst giggler in the team.

The whole team was a happy one, working together well.

Special thanks to our lovely coach Mrs Clark, who gave up all her lunch-hours just to come out and coach us. She was a great teacher whom we will always love because she always cared for each one of us in the team.

First XV

I'LL BE THERE, YOU BE THERE

Words of inspiration set in concrete (or Aaron Tapsell's head for this year's first fifteen).

We have a new coach this year, Mr Robin Kaio who gave us a shock about training hard to win (which unfortunately we often didn't).

The Team

Backs

(Full Back) FREDDY "catch me if you can" SIVKA

With dynamic sidesteps and lightning bolt feet; once he did get the ball he was away.

(Wing) MIKE "The Hitman" KING

With devastating hits on and off the field (no wonder he got sent off).

(Wing) PAUL "come to training but not to school" MIHAERE

Once he got the ball, showed speed, equality and style. Someone JK could learn off.

(Wing) TREVOR "I didn't go out" HEREKIUHA

When Trevor caught the ball his ultra speed boots grew wings to show his natural ability to run.

(Bench Warmer) AARON "no sacks" TAPSELL
With his attention focused mainly on the girls on the sideline, Aaron gave up and turned his attention to the 3rd form girls.

(Second Five) VAOTA "Money's at home sir" TAFAEONO

This year's import to FVHS introduced his own Samoan style of rugby - no style.

(Full Back) DANIEL "If I walk they won't catch me" MITCHELL

With Mitch's precision in running and kicking many games are owed to him.

(Wing/First Five) PAUL "I'm in Auckland coach" PUTOKO

When we did see Paul his speed and power showed he will be a future asset for rugby at FVHS.

(First Five) BEVAN "The Elvis" SIVKA

With an inferior feeling towards school and training, his natural ability to make the opposition suffer was outstanding.

Forwards

(Number 8) RANGI "we should win this" KELLY - Captain

Captain Rang's complex brainwaves for manoeuvres, showed without team wins, that he was quite valuable.

(Flanker) RHYS "do you wanna play Number 7" BURNETT

Number 7's positive attitude towards violence showed very vividly, in being player of the team and captain of the sin bin.

(Lock) GLEN "is that what I do" BURGESS

A first time rugby player, Glenn improved from dropping the ball to actually running with it (even though he didn't want to give the ball to us).

(Lock) REGAN "don't give me the ball" SILCOCK
Regan's epi-lady showed his legs so silky and smooth.

(Flanker) TOIA "V8" MOKE

Faster than a speeding bullet. Annoyed that the team was so slow so sadly departed.

(Flanker) AARON "Bruce Lee" ALLEN

Who achieved off the field more than on the field, but will be a future asset.

(Prop) ROBBIE "I'm sick" KAPOOR

After Robbie got over his long term illness he managed to play some very outstanding rugby.

(Prop) THOMAS "the tank" UERATA

Another prop with talent at training.

(Flanker) RICKY "I'm in the Navy" MILLER

Our speed demon on the road and field.

(Hooker) ISAAC "Do we have to" DAVY

Isaac when not working showed amazing talent as a hooker.

SEAN "Billy Ray" DOBBYN

One of the Monsters in co-ordination of the front row.

DEE RAMEKA

The Monster in the front row with Dobs - drove it hard, (and got more tries than Aaron).

THE SECOND FIFTEEN RUGBY TEAM

Once again the 2nd XV has emerged as the dominant force on the rugby scene. We won the same number of games as the 1st XV, loaned the 1st XV our captain and what is more, we actually finished the season, which is more than some teams could manage.

As well as our old hands such as Scott, Vaevae, Steve, Greg, Cam, Seuala, Ross, Manu and of course the indomitable Dobbyn, we had an influx of new talent in the form of Alistair, Uriah and big Mike. Jonus and Robbie appeared from time to time and later Caine dropped by. One player who didn't expect to join us was Sandy. We kidnapped him one Saturday morning when he was waiting to join the under-15's and we were a player short.

Team spirit was boosted by the arrival of that kindly, sensitive personality Toia Moke. Toia decided to become coach and his gentle encouragement and friendly words of advice from the sideline were one of the more colourful aspects of our games.

During the season our team revealed some unusual moves which had the opposition completely dazzled. There was Scott with his mysterious calls - "Black 7" and "Chicken McNuggets" for example. Unfortunately no one had the faintest idea what they meant as he made them up on the spot.

Then there was the devastating "Vaevae Away" move which worked brilliantly - at practice. Uriah's "spear" tackles could usually guarantee that someone took a swing at him, thereby ensuring a penalty against the other side while Robbie had two cunning manoeuvres - the "Robbie One" which involved passing the ball to the other side which really fooled them and "Robbie Two" very simple but effective, he tackled them with his tummy. When all else failed Greg delivered his master stroke, he tripped up the ref and fell on top of him. Despite this innovative form of play our boys were disadvantaged by obviously biased referees who were unable to appreciate true talent and consistently disallowed tries; forgot to let players out of the sin bin and generally displayed their incompetence.

Nevertheless we all had a good time. Once again we thank our loyal supporters, transporters and food supplies especially Greg's Mum who entertained us all with her frank and open speculations on her son's future.

Finally, for those of who are wondering why Big Mike has a bald spot on the top of his head, no, it is not the new regulation for head boy but the result of leaping into a hot shower too enthusiastically.

UNDER 17's RUGBY

This year the Forest View U-17 rugby team had quite a successful season under the watchful eyes of John Priscott and Lance Rowan (for half of the season).

The team finished with a record of five wins and six losses. We were often smaller and younger than our opponents but made up for that with determination. There was not better example of this than our second half come back against a confident Putaruru team. Down 14-0 at half time we came out all guns blazing in the second half to run out eventual winners 18-14 on the Forest View bog.

The strength in our team was the team unity. We always played as a team and there was never any arguing or fighting. With marauding forwards and skilful backs, we came together on the field at a talented team.

UNDER 15's RUGBY

This was only the first or second year of high school rugby for many of the boys and the team formed just in the nick of time for our first game. Although our team didn't win many games we had a great team spirit and many friendships were made during the rugby season. Of course all this wouldn't have been possible if our coach Richard Young hadn't volunteered to coach us; although we had him pulling his hair out and he lost his voice just about every Saturday morning, we were all very grateful for his efforts.

Players:

Edward Young – Front row. A good hard straight runner, gave it his all in every game.
Ryan Kaio – Front row. A great player, always hungry for the ball.

Haki Wairua – Front row. Very agile and tricky, full of energy.

Ken Burgess – Big and powerful, gave it his all in every game.

Raymond Mani – Front row. Never gives up, always gives 100%.

Guy Harrison – Lock. Big, powerful tackling a real powerhouse in the team. A person to watch next year!

Tuku Moetu – Lock/No. 8. A very aggressive player, always looking for action (not always around the ball).

Craig Wallis – No. 8/Flanker. Good team player, always gave it 100%.

Luke Boss – A good hard tackler, always there ready to pounce on the loose ball.

Korotau Watene – Lock. A great line-out jumper and all round player.

Royland Katene – Flanker/Halfback. A very skilful player whose accurate passes and kicks got us out of trouble many times.

James Harrison – Flanker. An excellent player who could bring down the biggest opponent.

Piri Te Heko – Lock. A hard straight runner who was never scared to run it up.

Dave Harrison – Flanker/Halfback. Never missed a tackle and always thinking on the field.

Shane Briar – Halfback. Always with the ball and up with the action.

Aiden Sharrock – 1st Five. Tactician in our team who was always directing play.

Danny Anderson – 1st Five. Someone who could always make the most of the ball he got.

Henare Simmonds – 2nd Five. A man who would have a go. A great goal kicker.

William Lazaro – Centre. Could play almost anywhere in the field.

Bill Kawhena – Wing. Very seldom did we see the opposition get past.

David Debar – Flanker. Always in amongst the action.

Morehu Te Hiko – Fullback. A hard straight runner. Someone to look out for next year.

Lawrence Underdown – Wing. An awesome wing with a great step.

Hockey

Girls First Hockey XI

This season of Forest View hockey proved to be very successful for the Girls' 1st Eleven. The girls must be congratulated for being placed 3rd in the A grade, beaten by two very well drilled teams. The eventual 1st place team came fifth in the New Zealand Secondary Schoolgirls' tournament in Wellington and this fact shows the skill that our team was up against. Playing eleven games in A and B grades our team scored 34 goals and conceded 18.

The games

For the first time in many years Tokoroa High School yielded to the strength of our prolific team, a most intense and joyous occasion for the whole team, as our success was due to solid team effort.

Our August tournament proved to be a let down for us all, as Jacquie Hudson was gone on AFS to Canada, and Monique Troon "ON HOLIDAY" to Australia. For various reasons some of our players were unavailable to play on various days, however, we played on despite our lack of strength. Thanks must go to our supporters who managed to amuse our team, the opposition (especially Avonside Girls' High) and sometimes the coach!

It was great to have an enthusiastic bunch on the sideline, even if we weren't that great.

Thanks must also go to Juliet ('The Kid') Cuttriss who managed to put up with us and show us some awesome talent ready for next year, and to Nicola Barbour who was always there for us when we needed her the most.

A special thanks to Mrs Crawford and Mrs Priscott who coached and managed our successful team. A special thanks finally must go to the team, making this a very special final year for me, thanks guys remember - "P.A.!!"

The team

SELINA BOYD – “Miss Ida”

Always manages to stop wonderfully hit balls and was a keen player for the other team!! A promising player with heaps of talent.

MELISSA CANTWELL – “I’m kool and you’re not – love heather”

One of our strong players who never had a good word for anyone! Managed to surprise us with some outstanding skills in the half!

HEATHER FARR – “Schnene” – “I’m right behind you”

Undoubtably one of our strongest players, always there to get us out of trouble, extremely skilful player, great team member and motivator.

ANGELINE HALL – “The Taropatch Kid”

Angie, being wonderfully petite, always came across as an aggressive player with a lot of skill and talent.

JACQUIE HUDSON – Jacquie was the heart of our defence, never failing to mess up the many attacks from the opposition. She was stolen from us by AFS, and sadly missed.

MICHELLE INMAN – “Keep your legs crossed Mish!”

Our recruited goalie with heaps more talent than even she realised. An excellent player in every position.

MARIA IVES – “Postie”

A strong and aggressive player with the jokes to match. A very talented player with heaps of potential.

KATIE KEDIAN – “Putang”

Apt quote for Katie “Karl wasn’t there was he!!!” Katie’s form improved through the season, and her South African origins seemed never to have left (Woza mayo seikelele!)

MARIA LEE – “To play or not to play?!”

Our recruit from Hawera displayed an aggressive nature which dumbfounded the whole team. Maria was an excellent tackler even if she tackled her own team.

MARIA PONGA – “Ben Johnson”

Our trusty winger who ran havoc on the sideline. A promising player whose sprinting and ball retrieval skills were always tested.

RACHEL PRISCOTT – “Hey *1/2 :”

“I hate goalies” was a classic Rachel quote, or to tell a certain person to calm down??? A solid back.

KYLLA RUTHERFURD – A trusty half with excellent skills, one of the most aggressive players on the team, never gave up on the ball.

SUZANNE TILLSMAN – “Speedy”

A reliable back whom we recruited halfway through the season. A very promising player.

MONIQUE TROON – “Beaver”

Monique could be heard, no matter where you were. A player with extremely high skills and determination.

KELLY WILLIAMS – “Last one back’s an Ida”

Kelly was prone to injury and suffered a brilliant bruise from her beloved captain. She improved greatly through the season, despite injuries.

Second Eleven

Every Monday, the 2nd eleven Hockey girls tripped over to Rotorua to prove they could do as well as or better than the First eleven. The team has enjoyed playing on the Astro turf and under flood lights even if the temperatures were in the minuses!

We came close to winning our division but lost it in our last game. Our thanks go to Mr Des Seymour, who was a very caring and patient coach. We would also like to thank all the parents who provided transport and Mrs Stokes for organising our games. The team has had a very enjoyable season and played very enthusiastically, even if it was for the reward of McDees afterwards. Sheryl “Blondie” Harper played our dominant centre forward who scored the majority of our goals and making the majority of the noise.

Juliet “Commando” Cuttriss was our trusty centre half. Stopping all hopeful opposition scores and contributing with a lot of encouragement and instructions on the field. Emma “Joker” Blinkhorn was our faithful right inner contributing to everyone’s playing with her skilful moves and words of encouragement. Carol “Speedy” Trotman, our reliable half, contributed to the team with some excellent playing and sense of fun.

Maria “Fry curl” Clay, could always be counted on for her ‘solid’ stops as a back and her great sense of humour.

Jessica “Skinny Legs” Haugh deceived the opposition with her size and brought the ball back our way.

Donna “Shiney” Graham had an excellent season as back and could be counted on for frustrating the opposition with her cheek.

Natasha “Cookies” Mason was an enthusiastic wing all through the game, but we’re not sure if this enthusiasm was towards the game or the McDonald’s cookies afterwards.

Amelia “Power Player” Plowright, remembered with her regular sideline saves, and speedy trips up and down the field.

Lisa “Slim Jim” Edgar put her big legs into action when she sped off the opposition and put the ball back into our play.

Ravishing “Rick Rosie” Andrews was our reluctant goalie in the antique gear. When the ball did get down there she was a sometimes heroic goalie.

Alice “Weetbix Kid” Fearn was an important member of the team, backing towards the goal and defending off the opposition. A player who just kept getting better.

Nicole “Long Legs” Andrews played either back or half and sometimes wing. Her great enthusiasm and skill was an inspiration for the team.

Theresa “McFeasty” Elliott, enjoyed being captain of a pleasant team and found it her responsibility to skipper them to McDonalds each week.

Boys' Hockey

This year the boys' hockey team had a very eventful year. We began the year struggling to hold on to a coach and had to finish the year without one. But the team was overwhelmed by support and managed to finish the year. The year's highlights was the Taradale visit to our school. The visit boosted our confidence to do well.

On behalf of the boy's first eleven hockey we would like to thank the manager, Bruce Dowdle for all his support and especially for his dedication to give up his time to help us out. Its all very much appreciated. We are also thankful to all the parents for their support.

A special thanks to Malcolm Elder with his outstanding skills as Captain of the team, leading us to a bright future.

Kyle McCallum

Scott Ngarotata – He's always something to say with endless jokes. But when it came to the game he was a key player.

Kyle McCallum – He's always keen and reliable, played a vital role in the team and we saw him behind the goal for at least 10 minutes in most games.

Leon Patrick – As a fairly newcomer to the team he adapted well to the turf conditions and played very well as our goalie. He's got a lot to look forward to in the future.

Malcolm Elder – Played the most vital role in our team, showing outstanding skills with his stick as well as a captain. Sadly missed as he left us part way through the season.

Harry Ponga – Played a vital role especially in defence as the opposition found it hard to get through him and he has a bright future in the sport.

Phillip Tetzlaff – Was extremely solid in defence and could always be relied on to half attacks from the opposition.

Jason Steel – He is a good player and has a lot of potential for next year.

Pani Bell – A good keen reliable player. He stops at nothing and he is a great member to have in the team.

Glen Roberts – Is an enthusiastic player. His constant effort was appreciated by the rest of the team.

Shane Forrest – A reliable player and keen. He has picked up a lot over this past season and would be a good team member for next year.

Maria Ives (Mario) – A late comer to the team used as our secret weapon. When she got the ball the opposition were too scared to go near her! (Thanks Maria).

Soccer

Boys' 1st XI Soccer

Last year, we were described as a "great" team. This year, words fail to describe the tremendous effort and skill of the 1st XI soccer team for 1992.

This year, we were lucky enough to play in the Premier Division, though we were only there to make up the numbers. We got to play against the crème de la crème of the Waikato soccer teams.

In basically an unchanged unit from last season, we had great confidence in ourselves, though the same could not be said for our supporters and our Hamilton counterparts. In fact, everyone except ourselves and coach "Colesy" expected us to get waaasted, which just fuelled our fires even more.

Being the only team outside Hamilton, the "boys from the bush" and their aggressive style of play shocked the "city boys". Playing as a team and with a lot of heart also saw us through more wins than losses, and a third placing in the competition. The school knockout competition saw us get through to the semi-finals where we lost to Hamilton Boys, the eventual winners of both competitions.

Finally we must gloat some more about how great we are, and apologise to all future 1st XI teams for setting them such a high standard to live up to.

Thanks to all the professional clubs for their offers, but we must decline as our social lives are far more important to us. Thanks also to Freddie Mercury for Bohemian Rhapsody, which kept us in high spirits and chorus, Mr and Mrs Wiles, Mike, Claire and Nadia and all the other millions of fans and supporters who loved us almost as much as we did.

The team was:

IN GOAL:

ROWAN "more beer" PRINGLE.

THE BACKS:

TIM "I forgot we'd swapped ends" ELSMORE

RICHARD "I'm not gonna write to her"

CUTTRISS

MARK "I'm only new, don't blame me" SADE

GENE "What's a body check?" DRAGOVICH

RICHARD "at least he scored at the end of the season" GARNER

THE MIDFIELD:

JEREMY "did you see her smiling at me?"

WILES

KARL "who pulled your hamstring" BALDWIN

BRENDAN "Monica Seles" DICKINSON

NAT "Ahh shut up mum!" WILES

AND THE FORWARDS: PHILIP "we were just friends" WEBER

MICHAEL "that's my sister Jeremy" PARKER

SOREN "academy award winner" JENSEN

Games played:

vs Taradale won 4-1 (first Forest View Team to do so)

Knockout Competition

vs Melville won 2-1

vs Hamilton Boys lost 2-3

Saturday Competition

vs Fairfield won 2-1

vs Fraser lost 0-1

vs Hillcrest won 3-1

vs St Johns won 1-0

vs Hamilton Boys lost 1-3

vs Melville won 4-1

vs St Pauls lost 1-5

vs Fairfield lost 1-2 vs Fraser drew 1-1

vs Hillcrest won 2-0

vs St Johns won 1-0

vs Hamilton Boys lost 1-3

vs Melville lost 0-4

vs St Pauls drew 1-1

NB: Although our record last year was better, we played in the top division against tougher competition this year, thus proving our greatness.

The beginning of the year saw the Forest View High School second eleven with fresh new faces on our team. Our team had the potential to do well this year, with the right discipline and co-operation among the team.

The team consisted of:

ANDREW "I wanna go outfield" TREANOR (goalie)

JASON "Please can I go up front" DWANE (fullback)

STEVEN "Knees" MORGAN (right back)

DANIEL "Which way" BENTLEY (right back)

BEN "Here I come" SNEDDON (midfield)

LYNDON JAMES (right wing)

NEAL PEARSON (centre forward)

DAVID "Not my head again" HARTY (sweeper/centre forward)

MANUEL "Pray it doesn't hurt" SAIZ (midfield)

JENS "Where'd he go" FROMANN (right midfield)

PAUL "Pass it" CHAMBERS (left back)

RICKY "Don't argue with the ref" BARRETT (captain/midfield)

Our team did well this season ranking high up in the ladder in our division, but some unfortunate losses ruined our chances of a win. The team has some fond memories and would especially like to thank the Hamilton player, we called "House Party" for hours of laughs on and off the field. I wish the team all the best next year and also express our thanks to Mr Barker and Mr McStravick for being our manager/coach. Also, loads of thanks to those parents who supported us home and away. THANKS Ricky Barrett

Junior Boys' Soccer

This season was a very successful one. We won 13 out of our 17 games. It was the first year our team played in the Waikato Secondary competition and we did quite well.

We lost our first grading game but came back to win our division (probably due to our flash new shirts), only dropping one game. We were also runner-up in the knockout competition, going down to St Johns by a score that we would rather forget!

Thanks heaps to the Wiles clan for organising transport and mid-week games. Thanks also to the parents who helped drive a bunch of rowdy juniors around the countryside, and a final word of thanks must go to Battletech and McDonalds - without them, Hamilton would just be another town!

1st XI Girls' Soccer (Blue)

This season has been very successful for the team.

We would like to thank Mr Gordon, Mrs Jan Grimmer, Mrs Jan Jacobi, Mr and Mrs Rouse and Mr Lee for their support.

I would like to encourage more girls to take part in soccer, as many of us have found it exciting and positive (especially we went to McDonalds after our away games).

Mr Gordon Huddlestone was very brave taking we girls on for yet another season, he has been a great coach for many years. Let's hope he continues. I know many girls appreciated his skill and knowledge. "Thanks Coach". "Come on girls, let's make next season even better!"

Kim Barrett

"THANKS GIRLS"

Kylie 'Butch' Reti

A great goalie as well as a keen and determined attacker. You could count on Kylie to get the dirtiest strip. Thanks Kylie, for a first timer you were great.

Jolene 'Bull' Morgan

Jo put in her effort all through the season, as a back. Jo put the boot in where it really counted, and usually it paid off.

Marie 'Blondie' Jacobi

Marie, a serious player on the field but great at McDonalds. Marie being a first timer was keen to learn, she even practised with one of the 1st XI to improve her skills, and it worked.

Treena 'Joker' Wintrup

Treena got this name from her smile and her laugh. Treena also being a new player was easily taught and motivated. Let's see if she can do the same next season.

Sarah 'Hoppy' Grimmer

Unfortunately Sarah was injured about half way through the season but she was determined to be there and support or play when able. Thank you to Sarah throughout the soccer season.

Rebecca Gardiner

Rebecca was a strong player where ever she played, either in the mids or forwards. Her tackling skills have improved and that caused a few injuries.

Uputo and Tapu Ali'ifa'alogo (the Island sisters) SAMOAN POWER!!!

These two were amazing together, they jumped, tackled, side stepped and stole the ball from right under the opposition's feet. Everybody could learn a bit from these two; they were amazing.

Paula 'Poffie' Hewitt

Some of the time Paula was more worried about breaking a nail than practise itself. But when it came to a game Paula moved quickly, dodging in and out of others and didn't give a hoot what shape her fingernails were (until after the game).

Leanne 'Smilie' Rouse

Leanne constantly had a smile on her face whether we were winning or losing. Leanne motivated the team into a winning spirit which paid off (some of the time).

Karen 'Moody' Sayers

A determined player but her temper leaves something to be desired. Karen usually plays very well and is eager to get the ball and run it up the line. Let's hope she plays next season.

Karla 'Catty' Rouse

Karla was like a cat on the field; she was sneaky and got to places without anybody knowing. Then ready and waiting she pounced and with a bit of luck it was a set up to score a goal.

Kim 'Terminator' Barrett

A very valuable team member. She was nick-named Terminator for the way she attacked the ball. Best goal scorer of the year.

Girls Soccer Team (White)

Our team developed a close friendship during our soccer season, giving encouragement and support to each other. We always played our games with our best efforts. As well as playing hard, we had a great time doing it.

We showed the other teams that we were good players, and also good sports - we made sure that we enjoyed ourselves even if we lost.

Deepest thanks to our coach for all the help and support.

It was a great experience and we hope to continue our efforts next year.

Basketball

Senior Men's Basketball

104-57, 76-74, 80-54, 78-60...

These are just a few of the winning scores from the most successful year thus far for the Forest View Senior Men's Basketball team.

All the wins have been due to the awesome members of this year's F.V.H.S Bulls, who have been on a rise ever since the first practice. The Bulls have been coached this year by Mike "Tyson" Hirawani who inspired our play with his absence from our Te Kuiti tournaments and showed us how to play in our Y.M.C.A. tournaments. Thanks heaps Mike. The Boyz.

The Team:

Guard 6'6" No 1: Maurice "THE HITMAN" Povaru. Maurice with his "Karl Malone" - like blocks would leave the opponents shooting from half way. Take him on... and he'll take you off on a stretcher.

Guard 6'4" No 21: Paul "WORTHY" Putoko. With his "James Worthy" fakes, shots and drives left our opponents peeling oranges and afraid to play. Attendance 100%.

Guard 6'2" No 32: "FATHER" Dom Russel. Dominique with his bullet passes and his awesome shots gave the Bulls the life it needed, Dom brings New Life into the game of basketball.

Forward 5'7" No 30: Grant "STUD" Goldsmith. A white version of "Spud Webb", Grant could score on and off the court.

Forward 6'4" No 23: Dave "HAPPY HOUR" Pakuru. Dave and his rush to the pub after practice left us all in wonder. An excellent contribution to the winning games.

Centre/Forward 7'1" No 7: Wayne "DEE BROWN" Anderson. A power forward, when he reached the top of his jump, there was no-one left around to come down with. Top Player.

Forward 6'9" No 1: With his awesome jumping ability, he dominated the backboards. All we ever saw were the soles of his shoes. Centre 7'2" No 2: Smiley "SATO" Aiono. Contributed to some of the points this year, and was able to sub on with amazing speed. Point Guard 6'6" No 14: Eddie "GORDON" Aiono. Through the past few magazines, Eddie's name has changed from "Jordan Wannabe" to a "Jordache", but this year, he has earned the name "Michael Gordon". We'll call him Jordan next year. But whenever Eddie played he would always pump up the scoreboard and impress the South Waikato writers with his tuneke shots, fakes and dribbling, he kept the Bulls going all year, right up to the last free throw. Top Captain For A Top Team. Favourite Saying: Just Start Without Me! Other people who contributed to our wins:

Stuart "JAM HOT" Poulava
Zack "BOMBER" Poulava
Moss "FLIGHT" Putoko and the Scoreboard Ladies.

Many thanks must go to our prospect Nigel "didn't stop at the shop on the way home" Crawford who gave us access to the gym this year, organised all our games, and gave up his own time to drive us to the tournaments. Thankfully the "Crawfords Tank" was out of action this season and the Forest View Minitank was all go!

Thanks to all our supporters!

Junior Boys Basketball

"In the beginning God created eight "Fine" junior basketball players and said, "Let There Be Flight."

This year began very slowly for the boys in force.

We all worried progressively throughout the year. Teachers that gave us too much homework were definitely a distraction for us all. The boys in force.

(CAPT) JAMES. T. KIRK - sending B/Balls to new dimensions, James showed the true meaning of the phrase "In Your Face" - (Desmond). Showing great potential, James always cheered the team with his tu-meke smile.

PRES. NIXON – as the name states, he always took control on and off the court. With his dazzling moves and “out of it” shots, he has been a great asset to the team.

ALOVANITY – Mr Slick and the Dr. of style always gave the crowd more than they bargained for. With a criss-cross dance routine built into his flying bombing shots and his hair gelled back to perfection, he has certainly earned his name as the FONZI!

D.J. FRESH – Always leaving his trade mark in his opponents face. We have “witnesses to the quickness” of Seuala’s mobility to perform 110% in every game.

ISIAH THOMAS – Well...Words just cannot tell how well all felt for Thomas, but he always knew how to keep the bench warm. But when he was on the court, Thomas always knew how to take it to the hoop (Yeah, the other hoop) – God Bless Thomas.

BART-MAN – Outstanding in his own field and being the “Epitome” (choice word ay) of our team. We enjoyed watching him glide over his opponents and waiting for him to come back down to earth. Our highest score pointer. “Bang on brother”.

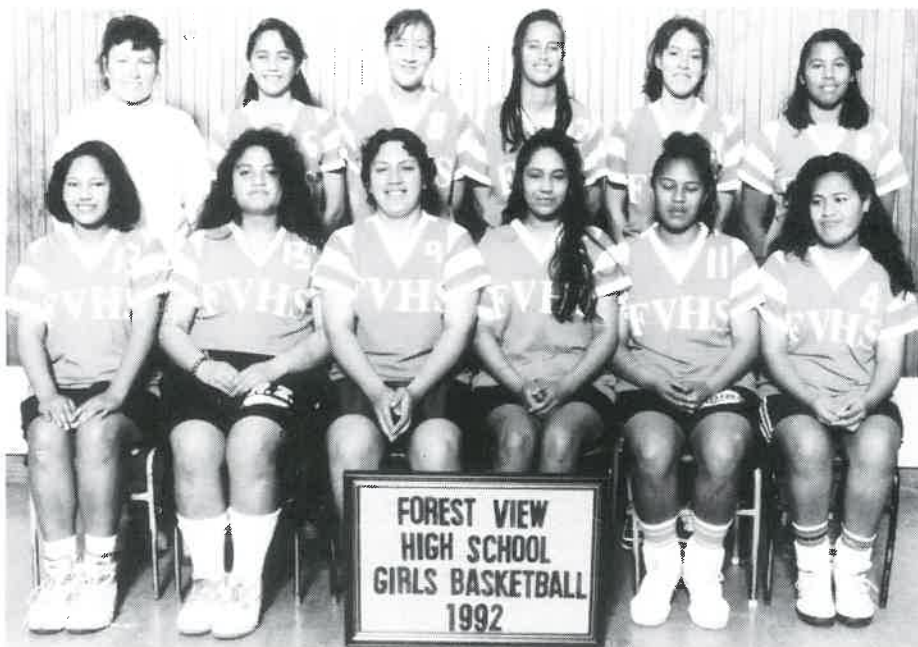

FOOTIE JORDAN – First sub! Broke all boundaries with his outstanding layups due to his inspiration and fly honey, Mellissa Jordan. Pump it hotties – Footie.

AIR HOME – Grandpa of the team he made the younger generation look stupid, with his quick graceful movements, we have all nominated him Grandpa of the year. “Lucky shot Grandpa”. Good luck for 1993 boyz. Catch you on the rebound. And can I have an Amen for that.

Girls Basketball

Although it was a very slow year for girls basketball, on the whole it was a good year. This year we did not compete in many tournaments. We were given a game against local talent every Friday night at the Y.M.C.A. In this year’s team there were a lot of new comers. The following are the newcomers who were team members of Forest View High School “A” Basketball Team:

KATARAINA JORDON – Although Kari did not have a lot of games this year, when she was on the court her presence was felt. Keep up the good work Kari!

JOANNE SINCLAIR – A very valuable new player. Could play anywhere on the court and had excellent shooting skills. Watch out for her in the future (N.B.A.)

VANESSA COOPER – An excellent player with all round skills, great with a basketball in both dribbling and shooting. Another valuable future player.

SUZI KOTUHI – Suzi is a valuable player because of her height. Suzi has played netball longer than basketball, but her skill in basketball was shown on the court. An excellent team member.

ALOMA MIDDLETON – The oldest on the team, Aloma was also valuable because of her height. A great player and fast learner. Way to go Aloma.

TAPU ALI’IFA’ALOGO – Very active young lady, with moves that not only tricked the other team, but also found that her own team members were’nt sure what she was doing. High Five Tapu!

And then we have the experienced players: ISOBEL TENNAITI – All round experienced player. Preferred to play forward, but could play any position. Great talent in both basketball and netball. An excellent team member to have. KYLI RETI – Experienced player who likes to have control of the game by playing guard. Although we didn’t win a lot of games, the games we did play were fun and enjoyable because it was an excellent team. Way to go girls!

A lot of thanks must go out towards the other girls that played basketball this year. (There are too many to name).

Thanks should also go to Mrs Denise Hein for all her time and effort with the teams. Thanks also to Aiono, Dave and D-Brown for the extra training and the helpful hints.

Also thanks to Miss Tracey Stockton, Mr Crawford and all players for a good year. Thanks a million to all.

Kylie Reti.

FVHS Swimming Sports – February 14

The swimming sports is always the first sports event of the school year and at the end of the second week at school after much rushing around we were ready to go and had our fingers crossed for the weather.

The day dawned gloomy and the forecast wasn't good, but our fears were allayed by our esteemed DP and weather forecaster who told us that from the clouds he predicted that we had five hours before the front arrived so we went for it.

We had 250 students entered, nearly half of the school, and there were some closely contested races. The toughest competition was in the senior boys where the sixth and seventh form boys came out in force and had the judges on their toes.

The day ended as usual with the Grand Relay where the winners of each form level relay swam against the unbeaten Staff team. 7 CF came closer than any other team in the past but the superior strength and good looks of the staff were too much for them.

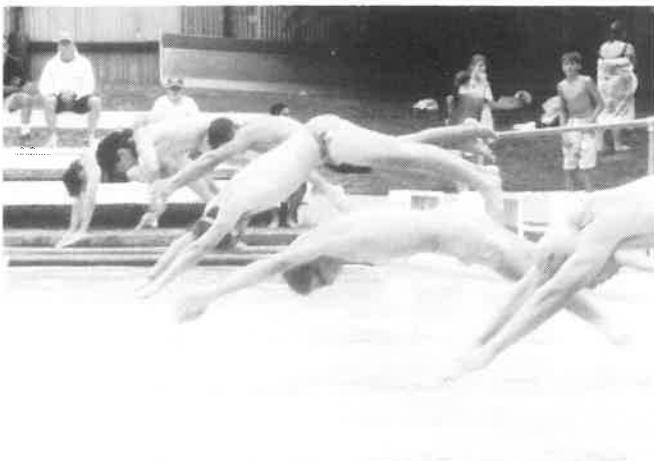

Id was right on and we were just finishing packing up when the dark clouds came over and we all rushed home pleased to have completed a very successful and enjoyable swimming sports.

Cross Country

One afternoon when most sane students would be studying hard in class, 454 Forest View High School students hit the cross country course with excitement and enthusiasm.

With teachers at set points on the course, various cheats were unable to take the short cut as they had done in previous years. Everything looked normal on the course; that was until the principal, that's right, Mr. Lee stunned everyone with his performance, coming in the top 10 in the senior boys division. But coming first or last didn't really matter, it was the effort that each student put into this event.

Congratulations to you all.

Results were as follows:

NZ Championships – Squash team held at Hamilton

The team is made up of six players of awesome skills. Starting from the bottom of the pack was Kenneth 'John Little' Holmes who surprised the opponent by his size, but his skills brought his game to a victory. Louis 'Killer' Khoo and Corey 'The Basher' Warwick dominated their opponents, with determination. Maurice 'Homey' Pouvaru played number 4 for the team and he stared his opponents down and Craig 'Boaster' Scarlett turned his opponent inside out for some long and nail-biting games. Then Marc 'The Bigger Basher' Holmes powered his opponent into the ground. Holmes had no skills but bashing was the name of the game and that made up the team of the six superfighters, of squash.

The school's competitions started this year on the 23rd of February with the Bay of Plenty/Central North Island Triathlon in Rotorua. Having become organised due to past years, we were able to send a team of trained and keen athletes to this event.

Many of our team members had been training for 3 to 4 months prior to this and had been taking part in club triathlons held during the Christmas vacation. Unfortunately for our top triathletes, Amber Edwards and Greg Lane, this event was the day after a very exhausting day as part of the team that won the Schools division of the Supersports competition.

Amber was however, able to put in a very good performance to come 2nd in the Junior Girls event. Our girls teams of Rachel Priscott, Angela McGregor and Jodye Tomalin came a very creditable third in the open teams event. Just one week later was the Waikato Secondary Schools Triathlon in Hamilton and FVHS fielded an impressive team with a number of athletes attempting their first individual triathlon, having previously competed only as a team member. Amber was able to avenge her defeat of the week before and reverse the placings.

Our results were as follows:

Intermediate girls: Amber Edward 1st; Angela MacGregor 5th; Rachel Priscott 13th.

Senior girls: Jodye Tomalin 5th.

Junior boys: Bevan Sarich 5th.

Intermediate boys: Jeremy Wiles 11th, Craig Scarlett 15th.

Senior boys: Greg Lane 4th, Karl Baldwin 6th, Kane McPherson 8th, Nathanael Wiles 10th, Michael King 12th, Tim Elmsmore 14th.

Of these people, Angela, Rachel, Jodye, Jeremy and Nathanael were all competing for the first time as individuals. F.V.H.S. took the 2nd placing overall in the Waikato Secondary Schools Triathlon Championships. On March 7th, the N.Z. Secondary School

Championships were held in Auckland and 3 of our competitors attended their first National event. In very tough competition, these results were achieved.

Junior girls: Amber Edwards 8th

Junior boys: Craig Scarlett 16th

Senior boys: Greg Lane 22nd.

Having been beaten by Forest View at every Triathlon and at the South Waikato Supersports, Putaruru High School decided to challenge us to a teams competition as a fun way of ending the triathlon season. After our late arrival due to bus booking problems, we got going, sending waves of swimmers down the Putaruru Pool. A great afternoon's competition followed and a sausage sizzle filled the tummies on completion of the events.

The results were:

Senior boys: 1st Karl Baldwin, James Keith, Michael Parker.

2nd Kane McPherson, Craig Shaw, Jeremy Wiles.

3rd Greg Lane, Michael King, Nathanael Wiles.

4th Campbell Emerson, Leon Niwha, James Kapoor.

5th/6th Putaruru

Senior girls: 1st Rachel Priscott, Amber Edwards, Jodye Tomalin.

This was a fun way of bringing swimmers, cyclists and runners together into a combined event and will be repeated in the future.

Meanwhile, we had a tremendous season and it was all the result of hard work! Congratulations to all those that gained top placings and all of those who competed for the first time as a team member and especially as an individual. Remember, Christmas holidays are designed for training, so keep at it for next year. See you then when we will be aiming for bigger and better yet.

Shooting

As part of sixth and seventh form P.E., a group of people took the option of trying out smallbore rifle shooting. The idea behind this was to get a team together for the 1992 Waikato School Championships (which Forest View won last year.)

Every day six, we all piled into cars and cruised over to the Putaruru Smallbore Rifle Club. Over the six weeks, people progressed from shooting walls, lights and each other, to shooting extremely good scores. By the end of six weeks, we had been whittled down to two teams of five, with three extra people going into a combined team with Putaruru High School.

When the competition finally rolled around, our teams did very well indeed. Our 'A' team wasted everyone else and won the competition with more points than ever before.

Our 'B' team also did well, managing third place. The combined team also shot well, beating the 'B' team on points, but were ineligible for placing as they were not all from the same school.

The 'A' team also gained a very creditable second place in the National School Championships. And our 'B' team came 10th. We were superbly coached every Monday night by the world famous Bruce Burnett, with the help from other members of the Putaruru club, notably Brian Warren, who spends more time there than at home.

A big thank you to them. Another thank you the school council for their financial contribution to our bullet supply, and for the use of the school minibus.

Tennis

This year the F.V.H.S. tennis team did well at the Waikato secondary school tennis championships.

Malcolm Elder who played the top seeds before had quite a good chance of at least making the semi-finals but just missed out as players from others schools had obviously trained for the tournament.

But in the doubles Aaron Tapsell and Rhys Burnett made an awesome combination as they lost their first game as a strategical move to try and take out the plate final. As they worked their way up, they played each game like a final and stunned the opposing teams with shots even McEnroe would be proud of.

As they led in the final 8-1 and the game was up for 9 they thought they had it in the bag when the opposition seemed to brew up a lethal potion which helped them on their way to winning the final. The awesome Tapsell and Burnett force had been toppled as Mr Whatarau looked on disgraced, as the two players walked off the court with their chins touching the ground. After this dreadful loss Carlos Winikerei and Corey Warwick played well as they won the boys final and gave the F.V.H.S. team a lot of glory for the day.

Equestrian

The F.V.H.S. Equestrian team has had a successful year in 1992.

Despite the freezing weather spirits were high when we went to the Inter-school Gymkhana at Reporoa College on the 3rd of May. Our senior team Meredith Graham and Monique Troon won eight ribbons and our Intermediate Team, Bee Gee Kim and Heidi McGlone gained nine ribbons. This meant that we were placed 1st equal with Reporoa College overall.

We acquitted ourselves well at Te Awamutu Monday 13th of April and we came 3rd overall out of 21 teams in the Inter-Secondary Schools Horse Trials. The six people representing F.V.H.S. were Monique Troon (Captain), Meredith Graham, Heidi McGlone, Bee Gee Kim (from Korea), Renn and Trudi Erceq (from Tokoroa High School).

A big thank you to the parents and guardians of the students in the Equestrian team. It is due to the efforts of the parents, students and of course the horses that F.V.H.S. has been so well represented in 1992.

Christine Haugh (Team Manager).

Orienteering

This year the Central District championships were held just north of Matamata. This year Forest View took two boys teams to the championships.

The first team set off at 10.30 and the second at 11.30.

The first team came 33rd.

Mathew Laird 25.32, Jason Steel 45.16, Phillip Tetzlaff 18.23, Louis Khoo 38.45, Michael Kirkby 46.03.

The second team came 5th.

David Addlington 11.26, Phillip Wiles 18.36, Soren Jensen 18.16, Lyndon James 20.16, Tim Bailey 16.17.

Taradale Trip

On the 19-21st of July Taradale High School and Forest View came into battle again. This time on our own turf. The results were amazing as Forest View's hard work paid off leaving us being more successful than last year.

Thanks must be given to staff and coaches who put in the time and considerable effort into the exchange, making it successful and worthwhile. The results are as follows:

Boys Volleyball:

F.V.H.S. 1, Taradale 15; F.V.H.S. 12 Taradale 15; F.V.H.S. 3, Taradale 15. Winners: Taradale.

Hamilton to Whangamata Bike Ride

On the morning of Saturday, 7th of December, 72 orange Forest View t-shirts arrived in Hamilton with parents, teachers and pupils in them, ready to brave the 125 km bike ride from Hamilton to Whangamata.

These orange riders were prepared, they had done the hours of training (supposedly), they had their suntan lotion, bananas, Moros and that desperately important water bottle. Many of the riders had no idea what lay ahead and had they known they probably would have stayed in bed.

The weather was brilliant and Forest View had only a few minor casualties. The ride was a long hard journey, the heat was exhausting and many of the riders swear that somebody shifted the 'last 10km' sign 20km out of town but 70 of those orange t-shirts made it to Whangamata. This was enough for us to win the school's trophy for the largest school group to finish and also a bike from Cycle Pro that has been raffled off for this year's t-shirts.

We would all like to thank Mrs Hein for the effort and time she put into us, and also thanks to our supporters, Harcourts, R.L. and L.M. King and Dolman Cycle and Mowers. And we can't forget our parents and supporters who gave us a ride home at the end of it.

Many of us who said never again, will be doing it again this year but some of us meant it when we said it, so good luck to them all and enjoy the trip.

6th & 7th Form P.E.

Setting out to outdo their efforts of last year, the P.E. department has provided senior students with an extensive range of P.E. options this year, ranging from surfing to squash, First Aid to walking. The choice of P.E. options had something for everyone. Fitness freaks could opt for aerobics, romantics could take part in dance, water-lovers could do wind surfing or dragon-boating, and racquet-sport fans had the choice of badminton, tennis or squash.

Besides these options were many others such as tramping, volleyball and cycling. All in all, it was a splendid year full of variety, excitement and fun. All bodes well for next year!

South Waikato Supersports

Sponsored by Smokefree, February 22

This was the first time that a secondary division had been included in this event. The aim of it was to encourage the younger ones to participate, and to get a taste of supersports for the future. One of the main objectives of the Smokefree organisation is to establish healthy lifestyles in New Zealand's youth.

The four local schools were invited to enter a team of two boys and two girls for the Saturday, the final day of Supersports.

Six events are held on that day and the schools were allocated points according to the lowest accumulated times for the four competitors. Forest View won four of the six events held that day – the static rowing – the cycling – the swimming – the 1500 metres.

We were second over the police assault course and third over the 100m sprints.

The team consisted of Amber Edwards 5CI, Cheryl MacGregor 8, Greg Lane 7CI, Craig Shaw 7GI, reserves – Jodye Tomalin 6Wh, Tim Elsmore 7MI.

At the end of the day Forest View High School 42 pts 1st, Putaruru High School 28 pts 2nd, Tokoroa High School 28 pts 3rd (count back for 2nd).

The prize for winning this event was a trophy and a cheque for $250. Well done team!

DEATH IN THE AFTERNOON

The class fell silent. The wrinkled bag of flesh lay motionless on the cold green floor. The pupils took a few seconds for the reality to sink in before jumping from the seats with cries of satisfaction and joy. The room was alive with people rejoicing. All those years of torture and suffering had come to an end. Amidst a triumphant class I sat there, paying my respects. Through all that evil and hatred she displayed, I could see a kind and compassionate old woman, turned hard by annoying children teasing and making fun of her. I knew I should be happy, but looking at the worn out body lying on the floor I couldn't help feeling sorry for her. While she yelled at the class I looked deep into her eyes, and could see a whole different personality trapped inside, waiting to escape. She died without a chance to show her true colours. I had feelings of regret. I knew it was a silly idea and yet I played along with them. I had no idea the poison would be so lethal. As I stood watching while they poured it into her drink, I never really thought about the consequences. Now, standing here all by myself at my teacher's funeral, I can't help feeling responsible. The rest of the class only started regretting what they had done when the new teacher arrived...

Past hurt – pushed aside
Temporarily forgotten, perhaps

DENTIST APPOINTMENT

Dave woke up from a surprisingly good night's sleep which included a dream about how easy the day ahead would be, basically a Saturday full of lazy mucking around. No jobs at all, and no school until Tuesday, since it was Labour weekend.

His mother's voice shattered his peaceful thoughts, "Come and have your breakfast David, or you'll be late for -" Dave's brain cut it off there.

'Thursday! No Saturday!' he thought to himself. It brought it all back. He had a dentist appointment today. 'Look on the bright side,' he told himself. 'Time off school!' said his optimistic side. Damn! He said, and yelled to his Mum, "Yeah O.K, I'm getting up." He began to get dressed in his uniform.

When 2.30 rolled around, Dave was in maths. "Sorry, gotta go," he said to his mates, putting on a confident front while shivering inside. "Tell him where I've gone," he said, gesturing towards the teacher who never noticed you'd gone, and couldn't notice anyone trying to tell him they were about to go.

Out the classroom door, up to the office, get the orange 'school leaving' pass, down to the bike racks and free! David tried to convince himself that he was crafty and had got some time off school, but he knew deep down inside that he'd rather be back at school doing hard work than on his way to the dentist, even if it wasn't the second time in six months.

He biked over to his home first and walked in, then rushed to the bathroom to clean his teeth, thoroughly, much more carefully than he would have normally. Then he went on to the dentist's clinic. His heart rate increased as he rode down the main street of town.

'Strang's Dental Clinic' said the sign, all too familiar to Dave. He parked his bike and walked up the steps. "Dunno why I haven't thought this before," he thought as he pondered the idea of putting an 'e' where the apostrophe and the 's' were on that sign. He wasn't a vandal though, and soon the thought left him.

Two minutes later he found himself in the clinic's waiting room, nervously reading gossip about the rich and famous in a 'Woman's Day' magazine. Suddenly, the thought returned to him about the sign. Could this be an omen? Was something strange going to happen today? He couldn't think about it anymore, as he was called up. The next thing he knew, Dave was lying down on the chair. It seemed like ages waiting for the dentist to come, but then he swung around the frame of the door. "Right -" Dave was sure he heard a drill revving in the distance, but not too sure, as the dentist's voice drowned it out.

"- Peter, we'll first hack away at -"

"W-w-wait a minute here. My name ain't Peter, is it?" the dentist was cut off again by David's enquiry.

"Aren't you Peter Jones?" asked the dentist.

"No, I'm Dave Smith," said Dave defiantly.

"Oh I'm sorry, you'll have to go," said the dentist and lowered the chair.

David was out in a flash.

As he unlocked his bike, Dave still had the distinct impression that something was wrong. He could hear loud drills and chainsaws somewhere. He looked across the road and his face lit up with a smile. There were people working on one of the shops over the road. David got on his bike and sped off home.

FUGITIVE

Alone I stood in the dark alleyway, shivering as the wind fiercely blew. I huddled into the corner, silently waiting for them to go past. Hoping that they would not find their frightened prey hiding in this dangerous place.

Quick footsteps were coming closer and closer with threatening voices carried by the wind saying they will find me and have no mercy. My heart started to flutter, faster and faster as though it was going to explode. Sweat began to trickle from my brow, strange as I was not hot but frozen. My throat was dry and sore as though I could taste pain coming. Shivering more violently my stomach started to turn. I waited, prepared to run if they were to discover me, the innocent. My chest felt heavy and I was out of breath. I was panicking and prepared for the worse, each breath of crisp, cold air was threatening and I began to feel dizzy.

Hungrily they searched for me, tempers flying getting angrier and angrier as they were unsuccessful. I silently laughed a weak laugh at the fools, though still not relaxing and thinking I was safe. The wind had died down letting the heat get to me.

Uncomfortable, I waited listening to them kick and push things out of the way, anxiously searching to torture me.
Hot tears fell as I began to feel sorry for myself, wondering what I had done to deserve this torment.

The sun shone brighter and my dirty coat started to burn. The footsteps seemed to be slowly merging away but still the calls were loud and clear, piercing my delicate ears.

I scratched them, trying to block the sound out but no effect still it was there.
As the footsteps become more distant my heart beat returned to its normal speed and I started to relax. The loud threats were disappearing into the sky instead of my ears and I felt at ease again.

Still not certain of where they were, I waited listening to every sound that was being made, trying to figure out if they really were gone or being tricky and waiting for me to emerge from my secret hiding place, ready to capture me.

I waited and waited, concentrating on the noises that were being made, relieved as the footsteps were not amongst them nor the yelling and calls.
The sun was slowly disappearing, that was the signal for returning home. I crept from the hiding place and made my way back home with my tail wagging. It's true that we dogs wag our tails when we are happy. Ha Ha no-one can give me a bath - ever! I'm too tricky!!!

OBSESSION

It was just five years ago that the thing which destroyed Monica's life happened, when she and the boy were just fourteen.

The boy had always been attracted to Monica, with her flowing blond hair (which could quite honestly be referred to as "tresses"), her magnetic personality and intelligence.

He admired her from afar, too shy to speak to her, or even show interest openly. In class he would always try to sit in a seat from which he could see her. He never tried to sit near her, he merely attempted to get into a good position for observation. He liked to watch her as often as possible. He was what one might call besotted. But the boy was also shy, and Monica was quite unaware of his feelings, never noticing his covert observation of her. And when she found out, she was not pleased. The boy had one of those faces that had plenty of faults, but overall gave a good impression. He was not a boy you would notice. He had a plan, a device he could use to speak to her.

One Thursday night he followed her home, almost getting up the courage to speak to her, but she had reached home before he could call out to her. It didn't matter.

There was always tomorrow. Friday did indeed come. He felt weak inside, all day. Home time approached, and he prepared.

Leaving school, he made sure he was behind her. As they approached her street, she turned and looked at the boy following her at a respectful distance. He froze, not knowing what to do. It began to rain gently. Monica broke the silence: "Why are you following me? Why did you follow me yesterday?" she asked.

"I just wanted to talk to you," he said, his voice seeming quite strong. She looked at him and immediately sensed a sort of animal obsessiveness. She was frightened by it, and not terribly keen on the look of him. She was one of those people who take in every feature in turn, and are unable to get an overall impression. Her eyes wandered across his ears, cheeks and nose with mild distaste. She came back to his eyes and shivered involuntarily.

"Well, I don't want to talk to you. I don't like it when you follow me," she said, and turned away.

At this point, something in the boy snapped. What had seemed like love now turned to a dirty, hateful feeling. He seemed to churn inside, wanting to smash her head, destroy the brain which had spurned him, remove from the world the head which was a vessel of a humiliating memory.

He hated her, and he hated himself. He finally turned and ran, his outstretched hand scraping along the red brick of the houses. He ran, not towards home, but in the opposite direction, towards the city centre. He ran to try and destroy the feeling of rejection, to burn out the hate – perhaps even to sweat out all the burning feelings, like some kind of emotional catharsis.

He ran and ran, his face becoming hot despite a bitter wind. As he reached the central train station, he ran across the busy road, seemingly blinded by his hate. He heard the ear splitting squeal of tyres suddenly jammed to a stop sliding across the wet road, powered by the car's momentum. A moment later, he lay dead, surrounded by a ring of horrified and revolted faces.

The funeral was a small affair. Monica did not attend – after all, she hardly knew him.

But within a month he was back. In Monica's room.

At first he just watched, unable to be seen. He would watch her as she slept, listening to her mumblings of deep secrets, smiling at the thought of how close he was to her. But as he haunted her room, it became increasingly difficult to leave it. To venture beyond her bedroom door was like entering a world with treacle for air. It was difficult to move out there. So he stayed inside.

Three years ago, the boy started to learn to move things. Terror began for her when he knocked her makeup off her dressing table as she stood in front of the mirror. He kept her in fear during the night; but in the day she escaped. A few months after this, believing quite correctly that there was a hostile presence in her room, she persuaded her parents to move her furniture and other bedroom paraphernalia to the loft, citing the larger space and better light as her reasons.

The boy gave her one night's respite. Then he struggled through the house, upwards towards the attic. He was determined to get revenge to the fullest degree.

The boy hated her, and enjoyed tormenting her, in the same way as a boy might throw stones at a girl he likes, or rather wants to possess. He wanted revenge, oh yes, but he was still obsessed with her, even death could not destroy that. And he knew her so much better now.

And the night after, he made his presence known.

A year after he first began to frighten her, he learned how to appear.

Monica, entering her room (purely for the purpose of going to sleep, she spent as much time as possible away from it), stifled a scream when she saw the boy standing near her desk.

"Now I'm back. Really back," he said, smiling. "Now we can truly be together, like I always wanted." She saw the same glint of obsession she had seen, so long ago, and remembered who he was. She tried to scream, but fear tightened her throat and no more than a gasp escaped her. She turned white.

The boy watched her detachedly. He was used to seeing her in fear.

Suddenly, she lunged towards him, clawed hands extended.

She cannoned through the solid seeming boy and hit the wall. She slid to the ground, stunned.

And she never got dressed in her room again.

She pleaded with him, ignored him, screamed at him and threw things through him, in an effort to drive him away. But he still talked to her, taking his revenge slowly, half hating her, half wanting to own her always enjoying her pain. He whispered to her in her sleep, and sometimes he would wake her in the early morning, and ask her why she hadn't been at his funeral. School was her only real escape, a reason to leave her room and her tormentor.

It became too much for her mother to bear. Her mother, who occasionally entered her room when the boy was there, didn't see him.

In despair, she looked for someone to talk to.

One Sunday, she got up the courage to ask to talk to Reverend White, her church's Vicar. He smiled woodenly and asked how he could help her.

"I need an exorcist," she said. The Vicar guided her gently by the arm into the vestry.

"Whatever for?" he asked, astonished.

"There's a boy in my room. Only he's not a boy, because he's dead. He used to be in love with me, and then he got killed...and he says I killed him..." she burst into tears reliving the past year. He nodded earnestly, taking notes. A week later, after consultation with her parents, she was committed to a mental institution.

And now, she lives in a little cell, and the boy is there. And he's got her now. Because you can't get out of those little pink-painted cells. Even if you scratch until your fingers bleed.

LORD OF THE FLIES

Like pawns in some mighty god's chess game boys stranded, alone
"just like Coral Island" –
nothing could be further from the truth.
Conditioned by society
their new found freedom excited them and slowly they slipped down
down into the realms of their ancestors into savage, primitive behaviour;
playing on their brother's fears for their own benefit and the ones who opposed the ones who saw the real, rational world through the haze
just vanished taken by the Beast inside them all until only one was left.
Victory and power was so near – taste it on the wind that bears the smoke from the fire,
see it in the flames as they destroy your world,
feel it as the adrenalin of the hunt flows through you
But the real power holder has grown tired of his game and you realise how foolish you have been.
You're nothing special just a boy on an island – just like the rest
So cry for the destruction you have all reaped
and realise it is only yourself that you should really fear.

THE GIANT PANDA

Soon to be extinct,
Slowly moving, alone, sad.
Empty eyes like death.

STORM

The rain crashed down on to the roof so everyone could hear.

It smashed to the ground and turned it to mud. Then the water disappeared.
The wind howled and whistled as it sped around the house.

Then slowly the pitter-patter on the roof changed to a thumping noise. The thunder rumbled and the lightning dropped.

The trees swayed with the whistling wind. The trickle of water on the windows changed to a small stream.
Silence fell across the house and only the TV could be heard. The sun crept out from behind a gloomy cloud. Its rays of light shone through the windows. Then slowly vanished again.
The rain poured down, covering everything with its watery force field, giving all the plants a new lease on life,
smothering the footpaths.

Then the rain eased away until no rain was falling. I got up from my cozy position and made my way outside.
Then I saw the most amazing sight.
Then I saw the best thing about a storm.
I saw a RAINBOW.

DEATH

Death. Black, dark, cold, sudden.

Death is black

For everything fades

Death is dark

For you cannot see

Death is cold

For all life is gone

Death is sudden

For you do not know.

Death. Black, dark, cold, sudden.

Library Report 1992

KANE MCPHERSON

While chaos may have seemed to reign supreme in the library this year, we have in fact achieved a great deal. The upheaval of packing up absolutely everything, then putting it all back together once the painters and carpetlayer had done their thing, was stressful while it was happening but the results made it all worthwhile. We now have a lean, mean, mauve machine in operation and a vastly more comfortable and attractive environment.

Since then we have appreciated the services of two extra, very keen helpers, Lynette Blue and Carol Maxfield. Under the expert guidance of Mrs Hodges, they have so far almost completed the refurbishment of every book and its entry into our new computer catalogue. All students and staff will be able to make much better use of our resources from now on.

Student Librarians Aaron T, Aaron S, Jodie, Sandra, Barry, James and Jason have carried out their duties cheerfully, even during lunchhours!

We were grateful for the generous donation by the school council to purchase new curtains to complement the new decor and these should be completed over the holidays.

We look forward to completing our computer network and to the further development of the school's most important resource centre. Happy reading and research in 1993!

Open Day

When Forest View held their general open day on Thursday the 17th of September, many students from Tokoroa Intermediate and Tainui Intermediate visited Forest View. They were met by a number of Forest View students (fourth formers and sixth formers) who acted as escorts for the Intermediate students.

There was an excellent display in the Auditorium highlighting the many extra-curricular activities that are available at Forest View including things such as cycling, climbing, AFS, shooting and other sports. Also, there was a video of a Maori club performance and the Careers department computer was there, to help people look for jobs.

Intermediate students were also able to visit classes as they worked during the day, so as to get an idea of how the school ran, and also to get an idea of what they were getting into next year, should they come here.

BACK ROW: Ms Ann Roberts, James Theobald, Jason Williamson, Dianne Collins, Mrs Bev Hodges.

Saturday Open Day

On Saturday the 19th of September, the school held another open day, but this time, parents of current and up-and-coming pupils were invited to attend school too. Many parents took advantage of this day - to attend mini-lessons in different subjects, to observe and evaluate the facilities available, to talk to the teachers and to play a bit of sport in the many sports activities that were running that day. There was even a sausage sizzle for lunch, run by the Forest View Student Council.

We were all impressed in the way in which many of the teachers and students put their time and effort into this day to make it such a successful open day. Overall, a very worthwhile activity.

Peer Support

On the 8th and 9th of December, a band of students went to Totara Springs for a training camp. Some of those had gone looking for more punishment as the Hamilton to Whangamata bike race was the previous day. Sore limbed, sun-burnt, some a little weary, they arrived late. In more like a case of the blind leading the blind, the teachers and students steadily progressed through the tasks and activities set out in the book. We learnt a lot about ourselves, each other and how to confess to guilt, in the reference to an early morning rendezvous. When the camp had ended, the group had some idea of what might lay ahead. At the commencement of the new school year the group was split up, with 2-3 teachers providing support for the 8-10 senior students. We were allocated our classes and then broken down into our final groups. A pair of leaders supposedly in control of 6-10 third formers. The idea behind it was to aid in the transition from intermediate to high school that the students would face. In its trial year, it had varied success but was overall seen to be beneficial both for the third and seventh formers. The meetings took place during the Wednesday SSR period.

With a new format and the teachers having a year's experience it looks as though next years group will be a little more successful than this past groups, it was after all the trial year.

O.P.C. Camp

O.P.C. Camp was great fun, a week full of adventure, enjoyment, challenges and nature. We arrived at the centre around 6 p.m., not really knowing what to expect. The first day everyone awoke excited, ready for a day of fun. Our group was going white water rafting. Donning our wetsuits we squashed into the van. At the Tongariro river we then tied tyre innertubes together to make a sturdy raft. We all piled on. After a quick lesson about how to steer the raft (for all the good it did) we were off, paddling down the rapids as fast as we could, hitting rocks and bouncing all over the place. Day 2 saw us heading for the hills. Tongariro towered over us. After a long struggle we reached the summit. Thankfully we sat down and pigged out on lunch. The view was fantastic. It looked as though you could step out and walk across the clouds. By this time we were impressed with the last two days and we didn't mind spending the next day around camp. This was the day where team work was called upon and heights were conquered. The flying fox shot out across the road and left you suspended above the river. This was when our teammates pulled you back up. The trapeze was another great thrill; Up a tree walking on a plank of 4 by 2 then jumping, SCARY!!!

Then our tour guide deserted us and we were left to navigate our way up a river. Forcing our way, getting wet, through the river and bush. When we reached our destination we played games testing our cooperation skills. It was an interesting and challenging day.

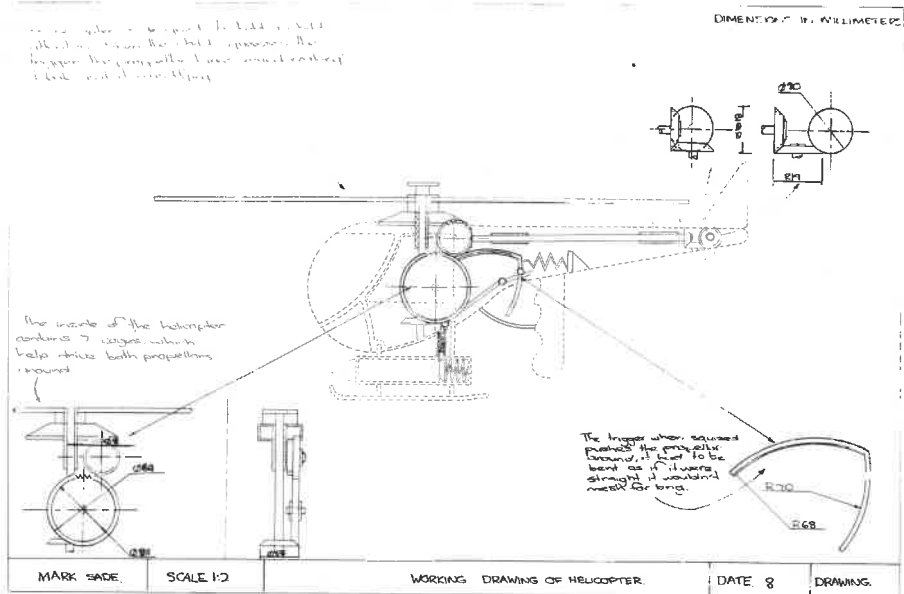

Our last adventure was to be the longest. We navigated our way (some of us not too successfully) to a great rock climbing spot.

There even the people scared of heights conquered the slope and came out victorious. We found an empty river bed to camp the night in. Short on water two of us set out to a hut nearby to refill the water bottles. In near white out conditions and darkness falling, what should have been a 15 minute walk turned into one and a half hours stumbling round in the dark. But we made it back and found our teammates eating dinner, slightly worried about our disappearance.

Everyone who went thoroughly enjoyed themselves and would most probably go again. O.P.C. is great fun, challenging you and your teammates to work together and to enjoy all nature has to offer you and to conquer all your fears.

Two good reasons to choose Wanganui Polytechnic, 1993

"The two best things about Wanganui Polytechnic are the quality of the teaching - I can't speak highly enough of the tuition I have received - and the helpfulness of the staff, who are always willing to give students extra time.

I've really enjoyed the informal, friendly learning environment at this Polytechnic."

Fourth Form Camp 1991

Last year in early December we once again sent the fourth form to Totara Springs Christian Youth Camp, near Matamata, for the annual fourth form camp.

As was to be expected, opinions were divided over matters such as the quality of the meals, lights-out time and the amount of spare time the students had, but generally the feeling was the camp was challenging and most enjoyable.

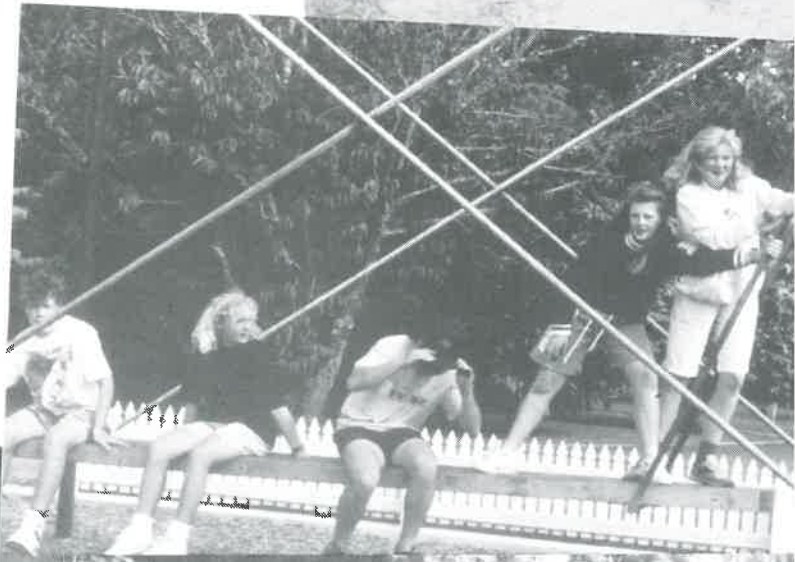

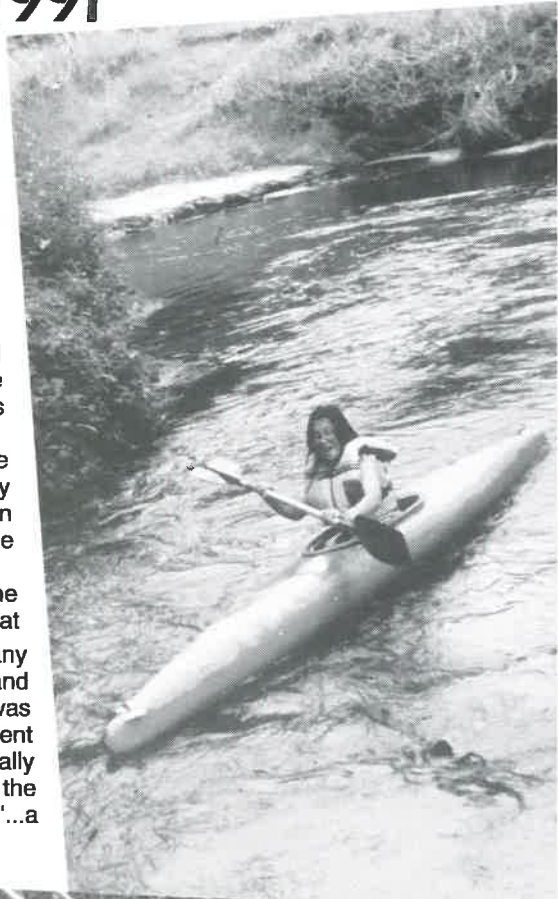

Most ranked abseiling as their favourite activity, closely followed by canoeing, the confidence course and dinner time.

Other activities included a trip to the Firth Tower and Museum, swimming, orienteering, aerobics, self-defence and of course the team competition in sports such as hockey and basketball in the evenings.

Unfortunately, many people found that the activities were too orchestrated and the teachers were strict – they do say old habits die hard! It has been rumoured that certain teachers were fine-tuning their eavesdropping skills one night outside a cabin full of particularly talkative campers. I was especially impressed by the positive attitude of the campers. They were willing to try everything and found that the activities such as abseiling, that many had never tried, can be really fun and rewarding. I have heard that camp "...was full of laughter, and a lot of fun..." "...it went by too quickly..." One especially enthusiastic camper summed up the whole week very well by saying it was "...a highlight of my year..."

Youth To Everest 1992

On April the 28th of this year 19 New Zealand youths aged between 16 and 53 set off for Nepal on a trip called Youth to Everest.

I was one of them. Our aim of the trip was to clean the Khumbu Valley of the Himalaya (the trail to Mt Everest).

The bus trip from the airport in Kathmandu to the hotel was done in silence. No one spoke for fear and sympathy for the poverty sprawled through the streets outside. We spent three days in Kathmandu, shopping and visiting temples.

From there we flew in a small plane into the Himalayas to a small mountain side village called Lukla. We stayed in the mountains for three weeks. During those three weeks we picked up rubbish left by expeditions and locals. We also got to know the Sherpas (mountain people) and their customs. The Sherpa were amazing; they would do anything for you. We trekked to approximately 17,000-18,000 feet. Being in the Himalayas was so unreal, the size and beauty of it, and not to forget the people who populate it was so amazing. When I flew out from the mountains I felt so lost, empty. I felt

I had left part of me there. I plan on returning in a few years.

Youth to Everest is run by a man from Nelson, John Bully, he has been running these trips for a few years now. All have been successful in the interaction between New Zealand youth and the Sherpas and the clean ups.

Although the trip cost $5,500 I believe this money was well spent. There are more trips going next year.

Adventure Sail

At sea for five days, in a boat with little room with people around you, who you don't even know. How can that be enjoyable.

After being on Adventure Sail in the Bay of Islands in the August holidays, I know why it is worth the money and energy. Getting away from home for a week is good for everyone, whether you really need a break or not. At the opening talk of The Adventure Sail there were lots of different reasons to come, such as hoping to get to know new people, get away from home, learning to sail or wanting to get a sun tan!

Adventure Sail is for all high school students who want a new challenge, which sailing really is. Knowing nothing about sailing is not a reason not to go, as the trip is aimed for beginners who have no experience. It is amazing how quickly you, as an inexperienced person, gain confidence in handling the boat together with the rest of the crew, which includes a total of 5-6 persons plus a skipper. The third day of the trip we faced the fact that we had to sail the yacht ourselves, without the skipper, who was sitting in the dinghy tied on to the rear of the boat. With the skipper's voice as the only help, we had to race all the other five boats ourselves. If someone had told me before the trip that we, a group of green "landlubbers", would be sailing the ship alone, I would have laughed in disbelief. Anyway this happened. Afterwards the pride was hard to hide, and our self confidence and trust towards each other had risen by several degrees. Jumping into the crystal clear water of the Bay of Islands every morning from the side of the ship, and exploring some of the countless islands are just some of the experiences, which will be remembered for a long time. Getting up early in the morning is not a problem, when a day full of action, excitement and fun is waiting to be taken on.

Working as a group in the crew, cooking and taking turns on the helm or setting the sails, is very helpful as you can use your experience in your daily life when you come back.

Don't let the economy hold you back! It is possible to apply for sponsorship from the Trust Bank, and considering the experience and fun the trip is very cheap.

I can't remember having so much fun, as I had on Adventure Sail, getting new friends all around the North Island, and seeing a new beautiful part of the country. Let your dreams come true. Go on Adventure Sail!

Spirit Of Adventure

If anybody out there is interested in meeting new people in a new environment and having lots of fun at the same time, spend 10 days on the Spirit of Adventure from the 19th of May to the 29th of May.

24 teenage boys and girls from as far south as Christchurch met in Auckland for 10 days of excitement.

I remember my first morning very clearly, six o'clock in the morning woken up by the clanging of pots and pans and within 10 minutes all of us were up on deck with togs on and with our towels. It was dark, cold and I should have been in bed, but all 24 relatively sane teenagers took the plunge into the cold black ocean for their morning swim. It was fun! – and it happened every morning.

Every 4th night it was a group's duty to do "night Watch". This was eight people in a group taking a shift and they were in charge of the boat, making sure it didn't drift, sink or catch fire. One of the more important functions of spending time on the 'spirit' was that of personal growth and new friendships.

Young Enterprise Scheme

This year our 6th Form Economic Studies class took part in the Young Enterprise Scheme, a national competition amongst Secondary Schools.

This involved the election of a Board of Directors and Company Officers from our class. Mr McStravick and Brendon Bradley also helped us as advisors.

We had to decide upon a product to service and sell. After a lot of deliberation we decided upon making "Perfect Pizzas". Our initial operating expenses were met by the sale of Supporters Certificates to our teachers, family and friends, thus they became share holders.

The expected teething problems soon set in, and involved such things as suppliers not providing what we had ordered and the occasional confusion about what our individual jobs were. These were soon sorted out. Our initial production team was mainly made up from our class, but our family and friends soon joined in, even though they were not paid very much. Our sales team consisted of anyone who thought that they could sell pizzas, a few turned up when a "Best Sales Person" award was mentioned. $100.00! This was won by Tim Elsmore who sold over $3,000.00 worth of pizzas.

We managed to boost production up to 120 pizzas a week, which took up long hours of our precious Friday nights.

However, on the last week we managed just over 200 pizzas, which meant we were at school until 9.30 p.m. – that's over 12 hours at school!! It wasn't until Monday the next week that our hands stopped stinking of onions. We ended up making a profit of $490.00 and the shareholders received not only their money back but also an extra 38%, not a bad investment!!

This experience has broadened our minds and was well worth the sweat and tears involved. Good luck to next years 6th form – you need it.

SHARLENE COLLINS

University Of Waikato Cultural Exchange

The atmosphere was one of excitement and anticipation. I looked around for a familiar face, but didn't see one. The arrivals board flashed "flight SQ 28 – processing" and I started to feel really nervous. They were here! On 8th June 1992 some students arrived from Baden-Wurtemberg in Germany. Two of those students were Gaby Fink and Philip Benking. They came to Tokoroa to stay with Bridget Mateer and Caleb Armstrong for approximately eight weeks.

It was really exciting to have an exchange student. Gaby wasn't very talkative, especially at first. But when she and Philip finally got to grips with the language, the unique Kiwi dialect and our abundance of weird and completely crazy friends, they soon relaxed. Gaby and I had some real fun! It was great having a new sister, since my slightly-used one had recently left home, and it meant our social scene really came to life! Suddenly, people were inviting us to places left, right and centre. Of course, we tried to take in the local tourist attractions, like Hell's Gate and the Buried village in Rotorua, the Glow-worm Caves at Waitomo, Taupo, Tauranga and Hamilton and both Gaby and Philip were given a good experience of Auckland over the 6th form trip.

Philip had a slightly more tropical stay, seeing a lot of the Coromandel Peninsula – the Armstrongs did a round trip and a stay in Whangamata. They also took in the sights of Orakei Korako and Wairakei, plus the aforementioned "traditional" tourist spots. Philip also had the pleasure of staying in the Armstrongs new house in Herald Island (Auckland). It was also a new feeling of family for Caleb, who being an only child, has never had the "pleasure" of sharing a bedroom before, and admits that it was not his favourite part of Philip's stay!

They left for home on 8th August 1992, with their fellow Germans. This was done amid a flow of tears from several people, but we were all safe in the knowledge that we'll be returning the fun and excitement when we leave for Germany on 1st December. I can't wait personally, and nor can Caleb. I've been counting down the days – as I write this is 47 days 9 hours and 58 minutes to go...

Bridget Mateer.

SEVENTH FORM 1992

The year's Seventh Form, to put it in a nut shell was large, crude and vindictive. After displaying these qualities in the first few days, we could get down to some serious card playing. The standard calls of hearts, no trumps and misere could barely be made out over the dink of our truly excellent taste in music.

Music

This played a major part in our lives throughout the year. Our love of it, however, got us into some degree of trouble on a few occasions. First there was playing the radio in class time. Then several leads made the trek over to the Maths Resource room. And so there was a spell of silence until the new system appeared one morning. It was to be the start of a beautiful and loud friendship. Like rats following the Pied Piper, pupils made the journey to the student Mecca as our boom box spewed forth magnificent tunes.

Home Away From Home

The Common Room was again the sanctuary that the seniors headed for, determined to escape the rigours of school life, that is, juniors, cold, wet intervals and some even used it to evade the teachers. For those of you who don't know what was in the Common Room, it contained all the basics of a modern home. Of course there was the radio and chairs, etc, but several other pieces were added this year. We had the 'Bart Fridge' and the romantic open fire, that couples delighted in cuddling up to. The trump card though was our house maid. She worked tirelessly to keep the Common Room a smooth operational unit, attacking pile after pile of dishes armed only with a tea towel, brush, detergent and an attitude. Natalie, you're our hero!

The End

And so we come to the end. The end of the year of five years with friends, the end of school life at Forest View. We've left a legacy of heartbreak, good times, pranks (how was your Halloween?) and biological milk experiments (the record five months).

7th Form Geo Trip

Woken up early on a Sunday morning this year's supreme 7th form geography left for our trip to Tongariro National Park to see the mountains.

As is the tradition amongst the 7th form geography classes of years gone, this year's class took no exception to the yearly trek to the Tongariro National Park.

Not that we wanted to leave early in the morning and forego any of that precious sleep 7th formers need to survive or any other plans we had made that day, but alas being the mature, geography orientated, never hassle-the-teachers' students that we are, we followed said tradition.

En route we took a vital stop at Taupo and gave an old friend a visit (McDonalds) then we were on our way.

On reaching the lodge located on a turn off further up from the Chateau we stowed our gear, setting ourselves later on for our little trek to Taranaki Falls.

It was fine until this point then the only rain hit us.

You couldn't say it was a deluge but drawing soil samples on paper is not compatible to rainy weather. However, the rain did not spoil my appreciation for the beautiful natural environment we saw (especially on Mt Tongariro).

Returning to base, a sense of foreboding overcame everyone as we put our thoughts towards the eight hour hike the next day. Mr Dowdle got off to a great start with his rally car driving along the unmetalled road to our walk starting point.

Everything had been easy up to the moment we were to tackle the Saddle (at most half an hour of a 50-6- degree slope). We took stops to do fieldwork while Peter had everybody worried about his sore ankle. Reaching the top of the Saddle everybody dug into lunch. The view was excellent all around and the only incident worth noting on the way back was the tourist we encountered "naked" in the Ketetahi Spring Mudpools. After a well deserved rest, that night and some more fieldwork the next day we bid adieu to the mountains. With a stop for a swim, we left for home.

The 7th Form Trip

You'll Laugh, You'll Cry, You'll Hurl!

It was a sunny June morn, some 35 students wearily assembled in the bus bay.

"What? Tired already?" shrieked our teachers. The bus arrived and overpacked bags were squeezed on board.

Soon nearly everybody was on the bus and ready to go; this fact did not stop Monique Troon from saying a fond farewell over the school fence.

We were on our way. What lay ahead was seven hours of travel, much mirth, cramps and a couple of hurl stops. Richard Cuttriss and Monique Graham assured Mrs Priscott that this was the result of travel sickness, despite the fact that both are renowned for other activity. Before we reached our "5 star" Trekkers (i.e. for backpackers) accommodation, our chaperones discovered that navigating Wellington isn't as easy as it may seem.

After a meal, we saw the bright lights of the big city from the top of Mt Victoria.

We students took a special interest in some of Wellington's more risqué nightsights and now our innocent minds are corrupted forever.

The next morning, after being cruelly woken from our slumber, we set off into the windy (and rainy) city, some to C it, others shopping, I mean, sightseeing. We were, needless to say, all home to Trekkers in time for tea.

A movie was next on the agenda - or at least it was supposed to be pub crawling was entirely optional. Our foolhardy teachers had an even harder time waking us up Tuesday morning, for another day in the Capital. This time Victoria was invaded for the maximum of two lectures before the shopaholics hit town. Our feet pounding the pavement in an effort to fit as much enjoyment and 20 flight elevators rides as we could before meeting Clint the driver and our two frazzled teachers back at the bus.

UPOTO ALI'IFA'ALOGO

Heads were counted, and the fights began over what tape should be played, as the bus wound its way towards Palmerston North, student city. Stomachs were rumbling by the time we arrived, but the prospect of having to cook our own, was decidedly frightening to many. Sure enough, arguments started as we left the supermarket. "Who bought the chickens?" "Yuk, Hawaiian frozen pizza. I wanted supreme!" I think the teachers were hoping we would poison ourselves by this stage.

That night Uriah's birthday provided us with cause for celebration, although perhaps the teachers went a little (i.e., a glass or two) too far. Embarrassing incidents we recalled in an award ceremony.

We slept in strictly single-sex cabins. Dawn arrived rather too quickly for some, especially our hibernating teachers. Have you ever wondered what Mrs Priscott looks like in the morning?

Our visit to Massey passed very quickly, as many ventured out and took in the entire student city atmosphere.

Then the weary travellers, slightly dazed from all that had happened in such a short time, piled on the bus for the last time, waving a fond farewell to the big M and all the other landmarks we had grown so fond of.

On the way home the teachers couldn't resist forcing Clint, the long suffering and now partially deaf bus driver to stop at the Ezy-buy sale. The few with any money left, made their last minute buys. From there it was on to bad, old Tokoroa. Those who had their eyes open were pondering on a brighter, better future ... would that be us sauntering casually at a 'varsity next year? Thanks to Mrs "Mummy" MacAlonan and Mrs "Chainsaw" Priscott, we had an "excellent" time.
